SENATE WILL HAVE THOSE DOCUMENTS

LaFollette Resolution in German Tariff Mess is Passed.

LITTLE BADGER IN THE GAME AGAIN

Stings Aldrich and Roars Denouncement at Senator Penrose.

Washington, June 4.—With no opposition the senate today adopted Mr. La Follette's resolution calling on the president to send to the senate correspondence between the state department and the German government or its representatives relating to th German report on wages.

Contrary to general expectation the opening scene when Mr. LaFollette took the floor in the senate today was quite pacific. He called attention to the fact that there were other senators who might have spoken last night, including Mr. Aldrich, who had promised an explanation of the cotton schedule. Turning towards Mr. Aldrich, Senator LaFollette remarked that that senator stood upon this floor as any other senator."

"He forgets it sometimes," he added. Then referring to the session of last evening as "sensational," to such an extent as to obscure the debate of the day which had preceded, he turned to Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, who sat in his place on the opposite side of the chamber facing him.

Raps Boies Penrose.

"As to the remarks of the senator from Pennsylvania," he said, "I would suggest that he would render a very important service to the country and to his state if he would account for the way he spends his time when absent from this body than in any effort to make an accounting for my time."

Sitting upright and leaning forward, Mr. Penrose gave close attention to every word of the senator from Wisconsin.

"I might add," continued the senator from Wisconsin, "that no man would undertake to account for the whereabouts of the senator from Pennsylvania without transgressing the rules of the senate, and I do not."

German Matter Again Up.

There was today in the senate another reference to the German wage report which was the basis of such animated discussion yesterday. Referring to a statement in the report by the Augsburg chamber of commerce in reference to the lower cost of living in Germany than in the United States as an offset to lower wages here, Senator Smith, of Michigan, repeated the accusation that the offering of such an argument, was an "impertinence." Senator Heyburn expressed doubt as to the propriety of calling in question the right of private citizens of Germany to make such a statement if they pleased to do so.

Mr. Smith insisted that the style of living of the workmen in the two countries had nothing to do with tariff legislation.

BREATHITT COUNTY CAPITAL SCENE OF DISORDER

Feud Faction Attempts to Shoot Up Jackson—More Trouble Feared.

Jackson, Ky., June 4.—There was great excitement in Jackson last night following the actions of members of a feud faction to shoot up the town. A. Johnson, who, it is said, so intimidated the officials of the Breathitt circuit court as to necessitate the sending of state troops to protect the court here two years ago, and Jake Noble started the trouble. After nearly a hundred shots had been fired by Johnson and Noble, the marshal arrested Noble, after overpowering and knocking him in the head with a pistol. While the officers were struggling with Noble some of Johnson's friends took him home. While Noble was being taken up Main street toward the jail by the marshal and his posse, they were interfered with by John Davidson, leader of the Deatch faction in their recent war with the Callahans. Davidson came running toward the officers with drawn revolvers and demanding Noble's release. Sam Young, a member of the marshal's posse, covered him with his pistol and held him at bay while the crowd disarmed him. During the excitement a hundred or more pistols flashed in the hands of the crowd on Main street, nearly half of the male population being present.

More trouble is feared. Johnson is a United States revenue officer and was lately made the republican nominee for county court clerk of this county.

BOTH ARE DYING.

Beattyville, Ky., June 4.—Charles Evelith, general manager of the Kentucky Northern railroad, was shot yesterday by Edward Riley, who was seeking employment. Evelith, after he was shot, shot Riley twice. Both men are reported to be dying.

WOMAN BEGS HIM TELL EVERYTHING

Dramatic Interview in Jail Between Dr. Cleminson and Former Patient.

WOMAN SHRIEKS IN HER WILD HYSTERIA

Cleminson Warns Her She May Open Her Mouth Too Much.

Chicago, June 4.—A dramatic scene occurred at the Sheffield avenue police station today when Miss Anna Kolb was taken to the cell occupied by Dr. Haldane Cleminson, alleged by the police to have slain his wife. It was from Miss Kolb that the police obtained the names of a number of women with whom Dr. Cleminson is alleged to have been on friendly terms. Miss Kolb admitted to Captain Kane that she had been a patient under Dr. Cleminson at the Chicago Union hospital and that he had paid considerable attention to her.

Upon being taken to the physician's cell Miss Kolb screamed hysterically.

Captain Kane stated that Miss Kolb, while of value in the investigation of the case, was not the woman most wanted.

Prisoner's Significant Words.

Later fragments of the conversation between the prisoner and Miss Kolb were learned by reporters.

"Doctor," said Miss Kolb in a low but agitated voice, "tell the police here the names of the women—tell the names of all of them."

Dr. Cleminson staggering slightly clutched the bars of his cell and replied angrily: "The closer you keep your mouth shut, young woman, the better it will be for both you and me."

It was at this reply that the visitor screamed a second time and was led away.

The coroner's inquiry into the death of Mrs. Cleminson was called by Deputy Coroner Kennedy today, but was postponed until June 18 without the hearing of any witnesses.

Made Additional Confessions.

Dr. Cleminson made additional "confessions" to the police, after which he was formally arraigned, charged with the murder of his wife and ordered imprisoned without bond. The doctor, it is said, is weakening rapidly under the "sweat box" ordeal at the hands of the police, and it is felt he is certain to tell soon all he knows about the death of his wife.

His "confessions" are contradictory. At one time he charged that his wife was murdered and that five of her distant relatives were responsible. Later he attempted to explain that she may have ended her life by accident.

The prisoner admitted to Captain Kane, it is said, that he had a penchant for "affinities," that he and his wife were on unfriendly terms, that for months they had not spoken to each other and that she never allowed him to prescribe medicine for her.

BOYCOTT OF STREET CARS IS HIGHLY EFFECTIVE

Full Service in Evansville But People Will Not Patronize Lines.

Evansville, Ind., June 4.—The boycott on the street car company here continues effectively and the advice of a committee of business men and manufacturers today that the strikers should return to work as individuals has not worked to change public sentiment, which is largely against riding on cars manned by strike-breakers. The company is running all its cars on schedule. Four school teachers seen aboard cars have been warned that if they ride again during the strike many of their pupils will be kept at home. The company still refuses to recognize the union and will only promise to raise wages when its profits increase.

KILLS TWO; WOUNDS THIRD.

Bellaire, O., June 4.—During a small riot at Fort Pitt Coal company's plant at Dillies mine today, Lucergo Talliti shot and instantly killed Mike Baggo and Andy Petro and seriously wounded another man. The trouble started in a dispute over money paid them by the mine company. A crowd of angry Italians chased Talliti to the hills with the intent to lynch him. He escaped with the Bellaire police on his trail across the country.

LIGHTNING BURNS STORE.

Crawfordsville, Ind., June 4.—The general store of Etter & Allen at Alamo, ten miles west of here, was burned last night as the result of being struck by lightning in the afternoon. It had been thought the fire had been extinguished, but it smoldered in the weather boarding and at midnight broke out again. The loss is about $12,000, with $6,000 insurance. It was the only store of any size in Alamo.

WILL RECOMMEND THAT CITY HELP WITH CASH

Controller Schmidt in Favor of Work by Landscape Architect.

The proposal of the civic revival committee to follow up its present work by bringing a landscape architect to Fort Wayne to map out a systematic park and boulevard project received a marked impetus today when City Controller Schmidt announced that he would make a recommendation to the city council for an appropriation to share with the civic revival committee the expense of the work.

The announcement was the result of a visit by Chairman C. H. Worden, of the civic revival committee, and Col. D. N. Foster, chairman of the board of park commissioners, to the city hall to place the matter before the controller, and they were assured of hearty co-operation insofar as the controller's office is concerned. Practically all of the city councilmen, so far as can be learned, are also favorable to this progressive step, and there is every probability that the funds necessary will be promptly forthcoming.

Plan to Get the Best.

It is proposed to engage for this work in Fort Wayne, Charles Mulford Robinson, of Rochester, N. Y., who is recognized as the foremost landscape architect in America. The expense for Mr. Robinson and his assistant will be $1,500, and the civic revival committee will provide half this sum, the city defraying the other half of the cost. Mr. Robinson and his assistant will come to Fort Wayne, familiarize themselves with every portion of the city's topography and prepare sketches and plans for a complete boulevard and park system to take advantage of every natural possibility, so that when the work is started it will be as the beginning of a systematic effort and not hap-hazard and ill-assorted improvement.

The committee has investigated the work performed by Mr. Robinson in other cities and is convinced that he is the best qualified man that can be secured for Fort Wayne.

MATTEAWAN YEARNS TO KEEP THAW IN EMBRACE

Writ for Release Upon a Writ of Habeas Corpus is Denied.

New York, June 4.—Harry K. Thaw must remain in the state asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan under a decision rendered today by the appellate division of the supreme court in Brooklyn. Thaw's application for a writ of habeas corpus releasing him from the asylum was dismissed by a justice of the supreme court several months ago. He then appealed to the appellate division which today sustained the lower court and dismissed the writ. Thaw's application was based upon the contention that Justice Dowling's order committing him to the asylum after he was declared not guilty of the murder of Stanford White was illegal.

NEGRO IN BRASS BUTTONS AWFUL

He Wears a Uniform and a Red Necktie and Wants to Rise in World.

MUST HALT NIGGER OR INVITE PERIL

Speech in Georgia Senate Rings True to Ancient Bourbonism.

Tallahassee, Fla., June 4.—The spirit which prompted the senate late last night to strike out a $25,000 appropriation from the funds allotted the negro agricultural and mechanical college of this state was voiced by the following speech of Senator Cone:

"Take these brass buttons and chevrons away from these negro boys and make them plow the fields.

"Think of it men, negroes wearing uniforms and walking around the streets of our capitol city. Why, Mr. President, I have even seen them sitting up here in the senate. Negro captains, captains. We'd better be making farmers out of them. Patent leather shoes, red neckties, brass buttons and chevrons are breeding in the breast of every negro out there the ambition to be a Booker T. Washington and eat at some white man's table. It is not right to appropriate to them all of this money to be used in this way. Why, they even have tennis courts out there. Why not make them plow these courts up and plant them in something. Its called an agricultural school, not a military college. Lets make them wear home-spun shirts, jeans breeches and get out in the fields and plow. We'll cut this appropriation down and say to our state board of control, 'You take these uniforms from those negroes, or we will ask the governor to remove you.'

"We have got to stop them or we will have trouble with them pretty soon."

CONTRACTS ARE AWARDED.

Barber Company Will Make Repairs on Alcatraz Streets.

The board of public works today let to the Barber Asphalt Paving company the contracts for repairing all of the streets put down by the Alcatraz Paving company at $1.31 per foot for the surfacing and 15c per foot for curbing. In addition the board secured a contract under which the company agreed to repair other streets at the same price. There are a number on which the guarantees have expired. Other bids received last night were: Cleveland Trinidad Paving company, $1.36 per foot for paving and 15c for curbing; Western Paving company, $1.32 per foot for paving and 17c for curbing.

Mrs. R. F. Markey, of 2110 Calhoun street, who has been quite ill for two weeks, is slowly improving, though still confined to the house.

BEAUTY AN ASSET IN BUSINESS WAY

Prof. Zueblin Says Civic Attractiveness is Most Important in "The Making of the City"

POINTS WAY TO MANY MUNICIPAL REFORMS

THE PROGRAM TONIGHT.

Concert — Citizens' Augmented band, direction of Gart Shober.
Lecture by Prof. Zueblin—"The Twentieth Century School."
Chairman—L. D. Redding, President Fort Wayne Federation of Labor.

Dwelling strongly upon the value of the city beautiful from a business standpoint in addition to the importance of civic attractiveness as a helpful thing in other ways, Prof. Charles Zueblin at the Majestic theater this afternoon pointed the way to many municipal reforms in his address on "The Making of the City."

The scope of Prof. Zueblin's address was wide, going back to the topographical formation of its site, the arrangement and construction of streets and the sanitary and building regulations which are most important. He urged that cities advertise themselves by their accomplishments and not by mere noise, and declared that the general tendency in city government is toward home rule and simplicity, with a wider and more distinctive separation of the executive and the legislative.

Making Trips About the City.

Much of the time between his addresses is being spent by Prof Zueblin in traveling about the city and making a general inspection of conditions in order that he may offer specific suggestions touching local possibilities in the way of improvement, and these are injected into his talks at frequent intervals.

The civic revival effort is growing in interest, and the crowd this afternoon was the largest day audience of the week. It was under the auspices of the business men's organizations, with H. C. Rockhill, president of the Fort Wayne Commercial club, presiding. The musical program was in charge of John B. Archer, and the numbers were contributed by Miss Florence Robinson, Miss Martha Ketler and Miss Adelia Reynolds.

The address this evening upon "The Twentieth Century School" will be profusely illustrated by the use of the stereopticon, as is the case with all the evening addresses.

"The Making of the City."

In the course of his address on "The Making of the City" this afternoon Prof. Zueblin said:

"The making of the city in the past has meant either the spiritualization of the city or its beautification, but the real making of the city begins long before this with the topographical formation of the site. It is the proper consideration of the topography that makes the beautiful city. We have seaports in this country, but in few of them have they shown the love for the sea that has made Venice so beautiful. Paris and Edinburgh, too, owe their beauty to their natural formation.

"The functions to be served by the planning of a city are business, communication, public buildings, residences and recreation. It is good to scatter parks and public buildings here and there, but these are only like the feathers and ribbons that beautify a person.

Effect of Beauty on Business.

"Today the business men are beginning to awaken to the effect of beauty on business, and they reveal it in their show windows, but they leave the upper stories as ugly as ever. The man who refuses to decorate properly his whole building ten years from now will suffer as greatly in his trade as the man of today who tries to do business after the methods of ten years ago. It is only a matter of time when the manufacturer who puts up an ugly factory or warehouse will be looked upon with as much disgust as we look upon a shabby, neglectful neighbor.

"The arrangement and construction of the streets is next in importance. We must consider the grades, and run a street up a steep hill by easy curving grades instead of a steep road. The problem of making a city is largely a question of its streets. It is there that you read the city's character. If the street is immoral, the city is immoral; if the street is dirty, the city is dirty. If the people endure dirty streets and do not protest against them they are dirty and uncivilized, too. We have reached a stage where we not only insist on clean hands and faces, but on clean bodies; but with dirty streets our lungs become dirty and we are no further advanced than the natives with their dirty bodies. The paving of the streets should be considered first. We put in a pavement and leave it to rot. When it gets beyond endurance, we put in another. What we should do is to put in a good concrete foundation and keep the surface in repair.

Building and Sanitary Regulations.

"The next concern must be for the building and sanitary regulations. If these were strict enough our streets would be well built. We should consider the probable use of each street for the next fifty years and establish not only a building line but a sky line in accord. Although we have the finest fire departments, America has the largest and most disastrous fires of any nation, because we do not build properly. In establishing a sky line we do not limit human endeavor and make the city uniform, but we make it systematic, which is what we want.

"The water which we now waste might be used in flushing the streets, or the dust could be sucked by one of the new suction machines which clean streets much as the familiar compressed air cleaner cleans houses.

"City streets should be encumbered by no poles except those to support the lights. Conduits for wires should be built by the city, preferably beneath the curb when galleries in the subways are not used, and leased to the companies. Lighting poles should be models of beauty, like some in Los Angeles, which has the three best lighted streets in the world, with bronze standards supporting clusters of incandescent lamps.

Try Accomplishment; Not Noise.

"Let us advertise our cities by their accomplishments, not by their noise. The newspaper is the best advertising medium, and the more we employ it and boycott billboards the better for the community.

"It is coming to be recognized that genuine municipal reform is primarily a product of the extension of municipal functions. When there are more services to be performed by the municipality, when the public debt and the annual budget are continually on the increase, the interest of the voter is excited. It is becoming evident that the changes proposed in the methods of municipal administration not only are due to the increasing volume of public business, but must be of such a nature as to facilitate public administration. Abstract political theories must yield to the common sense of democratic administration. When the people begin to see that their chief enemies are the public service corporations, it is next necessary to convince them that government must be simpler and more direct, and still leave to the officials that latitude which is necessary to enable them to compete with the officers of the private corporations.

Home Rule and Simplicity.

"The general tendency in charter making is towards home rule and simplicity; but with even an exaggerated emphasis on the separation of that legislative and executive. This results in giving the mayor huge powers, such as he has in the city of New York, defended by many people on the ground that one-man power is the source of all success in the great private corporations. The breaking down of that last device of despair has facilitated recognition of the admirable results achieved through the frank abandonment of all this American tradition, such as one finds in Galveston and two other Texas cities, and, more recently, in Des Moines. The flood which destroyed Galveston left the people in that city in industrial and political chaos. To build a new city on the ruins of the old, among the distracted and discouraged people, it was proposed to have what is called a commission of four men, to whom should be entrusted all the municipal functions. It is unfortunate that the term "commission" has been applied to this form of government, as commissions in America suggest those supernumerary organizations intervening to do the work left undone, or badly done, by council and mayor. This Galveston plan is, in fact, a reversion to council government, such as one sees univer-

The subject of Professor Zueblin's lecture at the Majestic theater this (Friday) evening has been changed from "The Life of the Citizen" to "THE TWENTIETH CENTURY SCHOOL." L. D. Redding, president of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor, will be the chairman of the evening.

Remember, all the lectures during the entire week are free, and the public is invited to attend them all.

sally in Great Britain. Under the pressure of an emergency these cities have compromised on a very small council, whose performances can easily be observed. Experience will doubtless lead to the enlargement of this council in larger cities, but the step is epoch-making.

Universal Suffrage May Come.

"There is a prospect that in the near future many American cities will be governed by universal suffrage which, with direct legislation and unhampered administrative methods, under the pressure of growing municipal functions and loftier civic ideals, promises to mark the development of truly democratic-municipal administration. The ideal cherished by many municipal reformers today is that one which is happily set forth in the titles of two of the most notable books on municipal questions—'The City for the People' and 'The City, the Hope of Democracy.'"

Parks and Playgrounds.

"Parks and Playgrounds" was the general theme of the Thursday evening meeting, and that the idea is a popular one was again made manifest when hundreds of boys and girls in the audience joined in a vociferous demonstration of applause as Dr. L. P. Drayer, president of the new Playgrounds association, stepped upon the stage with Prof. Zueblin. "And I would rather have plaudits from the boys and girls than the applause of men and women, whether they mean it or not," declared Dr. Drayer in the course of his introductory remarks before presenting the speaker of the evening.

The Majestic theater was packed and hundreds were turned away, unable to find a seat on either the main floor or the balcony. The City Packard band played a short musical program, and other numbers were given by Miss Mabel Carter, with Miss Emil Verweire as accompanist, and the Melody quartet. The address of the evening was profusely illustrated by stereopticon views, setting forth some of the accomplishments of other cities in the way of parks and playgrounds.

Prof. Zueblin's Address.

In part Prof. Zueblin said:

"Public provisions for recreation are much more limited in this country than abroad. While it is quite common to have public concerts in the parks of the United States, the city or state theater or opera house, or the stadtgarten of Germany is almost unknown in this country. Children's playgrounds are as necessary as schools to the welfare of the modern community. The idea that the public interest in the child ceases at the close of the school session has to be abandoned in the contemporary city. Along with the restricted opportunity for play in the city streets there has come a conception of the value of rational recreation which has its application in both city and country. Regularly equipped playgrounds with apparatus and the direction of skilled teachers or attendants, to encourage both individual and organized play, will soon doubtless be a part of the public school system throughout the land. In the populous quarters of the cities the playgrounds may take the form of open spaces in the midst of crowded tenements, of school yards, or as a device of despair in New York, space on the roofs of school buildings.

Legislative Steps Taken.

"Legislative steps have been taken by New York which put it in the van in the provision of two forms of popular recreation. Every school house which is built in New York now must be provided with a playground. In the congested district this is accomplished by locating the playground on the roof of the building, but in all outlying parts of the city ample space about the building is being included in the plans.

"New York state has also recently taken the most advanced step in the subject next to be discussed by passing a law which makes the provision of public baths obligatory upon the cities. The statute reads: 'Section 1. All cities of the first and second class shall establish and maintain such number of public baths as the local board of health may determine to be necessary; each bath shall be kept open not less than fourteen hours each day and both cold and hot water shall be provided. The erection of river or ocean baths will not be deemed in compliance with the requirements of this section. Any city, village or town having less than 50,000 inhabitants may establish and maintain free public baths and any city, village or town may loan its credit or may appropriate of its funds for the purpose of establishing free public baths.' Public baths are a popular means of recreation and an indispensable protection of the public health, which would have been appreciated long ago had it not been for the American illusion that all houses are provided with private baths.

Milwaukee Began Work.

"The first all the year public bath which provided swimming tank and showers was the west side natatorium in Milwaukee, erected in 1889 at a cost of over $21,000. A second public bath house, the south side natatorium, was built five years later (1894) at a cost of approximately $25,000. Both of these public baths antedate any similar institutions elsewhere in the country. The most extensive system of summer baths in the United States is to be found in Boston. The many waterways of Boston give abundant opportunity for the location of summer bath houses, and the patronage of these as shown in the municipal reports would indicate not only the choice of the most desirable and popular bathing beaches but a very wise location of the minor bath houses with reference to the distribution of population. The most elaborate system of baths and playgrounds in the world is being developed in Chicago. Already fifteen places of recreation have been established at a cost of five or six million dollars, with field house, indoor and outdoor gymnasiums, swimming provisions, athletic apparatus and other equipment for entertainment of various kinds for both sexes of all ages, daytime and evening, week day and Sunday, summer and winter.

How to Make a Start.

"If the American cities are not yet ready to follow the lead of European municipalities in the provision of opera and the drama, they may at least consistently extend the widely accepted idea of public recreation in the parks to the related institutions which have already been established in some of the cities. The children may well have much of their play provided by the board of education in connection with the school houses, but wholesale recreation for adults and opportunities for whole families and communities to enjoy their pastimes together require a larger conception on the part of municipal officials and larger appropriations for recreation. The restriction of Sunday work, the extension of the Saturday half holiday, the better observance of national festivals, the increase in the number of those enjoying summer vacations, the limitations of the hours of labor, the enlarged conception of the functions of the municipality, including higher ideals of education and recreation are all working toward a standard of living which will make it possible for people in American cities to take recreation more seriously while they may at the same time be less serious in those hours devoted to recreation. A great relief will come to our prosaic life when public recreation is founded on the principle that 'the child is father to the man.'"

More Fort Wayne Pictures.

In the course of his address Prof. Zueblin had thrown upon the screen several pictures taken in Fort Wayne, including the eastern approach to the West Main street bridge and a number of park and suburban views to illustrate the possibilities of improvement there. The final picture was a view of East Berry street leading up to the Majestic theater, showing the great holes in the pavement transformed into pools of water by the rainfall, and in the surface of the pools was reflected plainly the wording of the banner strung across the street at this point to advertise the present civic revival effort. Need of improvement could hardly have been more forcefully impressed, and the audience demonstrated that it saw the point by a storm of laughter and merriment.

The Citizens' band, its numbers augmented by additions from the Robison park band kindly loaned for the occasion by the new park management, Messrs. Proctor, Bulger and Franklin, making a large organization of thirty members under the direction of Carl Shober, will meet at the Anthony at 7:30 this evening, and, after playing a few numbers, will escort Professor Zueblin and the reception committee to the Majestic, where they will open the evening's exercises with a half hour's program as follows:

Selection from "The Honeymoon Trail."

Fantasia—"Hungarian."

March—"Prince Henry."

Makes Appeal to Women.

Mrs. O. N. Guldlin, president of the Women's Club league, has issued the following appeal to the women of Fort Wayne:

"All the meetings of the civic revival are for all the people. But the afternoon meetings give the women an especial chance to show their interest in the larger good of the city. The Woman's Club league promised its fullest co-operation to the civic revival committee, and, therefore, I would appeal to all the members of all the organizations belonging to the Woman's Club league to help along, at least to the extent of being present at the afternoon meetings and bringing a friend or two along. I would also kindly ask all women's organizations, church, fraternal or otherwise, even if not connected with the league, as well as the women individually, to come in goodly numbers. Only in this way can we make the afternoon meetings the success they should be. We cannot expect so many men in the afternoon. It is for the women to do their part."

MEETINGS YET TO COME.

Majestic theater meetings which are yet to follow in the civic revival movement are as follows:

LONG SERVICE GETS A REWARD FROM FATHER

Patrick Ryan Leaves His Property to Son and a Daughter.

The will of the late Patrick Ryan was probated in the circuit court today and under its provisions all of the property he possessed at the time of his death will go to Hannah H. Ryan and John B. Ryan, a daughter and son.

He sets out in the document that they have always remained at home with their parents and have rendered long and faithful service and that the bequests are made in appreciation of this. The will was drawn last August and it provides that if an administration of the estate is necessary John B. Ryan shall be appointed executor.

Files Second Suit.

Anna Holder has filed a second suit against Edwin C. Holder in the circuit court and secured a restraining order to prevent Julia Small from paying him any money until the matter can be heard and disposed of. They were married October 28, 1907, and lived together a year and the wife alleges in her complaint that Holder is ostensibly working for Julia Small but she believes he has an interest in a business the woman conducts and that the wage arrangement is simply to prevent the lawful wife obtaining anything for her support. She says he owes board for her to his mother-in-law and has refused to pay her hospital bills. Emrick & Emrick are her attorneys.

Divorced Wife Files Suit.

Anna Hite has entered suit in the superior court demanding $1,000 of Harvey T. Hite and a rather unusual feature of the case is that the woman in the case is the divorced wife of the man she is suing. Hite entered suit for divorce from the woman and she resisted and a long hearing followed and at the conclusion the wife got a decree. Hite left Fort Wayne and has since married. The former wife charges that he promised to marry her and that she requested him to do so before filing a suit and he declined. He is married and is living in Missouri. P. B. Colerick filed the suit.

Court Notes.

The suit of J. C. Hartzell against the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad company to recover damages for the destruction of a meadow alleged to have been destroyed by fire originating from a spark from one of the company's locomotives was placed on trial in the circuit court today.

The evidence was concluded in the divorce suit of Joseph against Mattie Wilks and arguments will be heard tomorrow morning.

Articles of incorporation of the Fort Wayne Machine company were filed with the county recorder. The capital stock is $10,000 and the incorporators are Samuel Z. and Myrtle M. Davis and Freda L. Jones.

EACH SIDE PLEASED BY STATUS OF STRIKE

Baltimore, Md., June 4.—Both sides today expressed satisfaction with the status of the strike of machinists on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which was ordered yesterday in protest against the introduction of piece work.

The latest reports received at the company's headquarters placed the shops at Keyser, W. Va., and West Philadelphia in the strike column.

Thus far the strike order has not been noheyed at the Riverside shops in this city and no defections were reported from the present force at Mount Claire, where the machinists struck on May 3.

GARRETT MEN OUT.

Garrett, Ind., June 4.—Three-fourths of the machinists in the Garrett shops of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad are on strike in obedience to yesterday's strike order. At the conference yesterday afternoon seventy-five men voted to quit work and the strike was on. Some of the men who own their homes and have long lived here opposed the strike and remain at work.

FOUR HURT IN AUTO SMASH.

Philadelphians Bruised When Two Machines Crash Together.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 4.—A collision of automobiles today near Egg Harbor City, N. J., about twenty miles from Atlantic City, resulted in the serious injury of four men. They are B. F. Lindsey, Prof. J. R. Taylor, J. J. Klemm, all of Philadelphia. They occupied an automobile coming from the seashore.

Niles was driving the car. The occupants of the other automobile, so far as is known, were not seriously injured if at all, as they disappeared with their car. The four injured men were taken to a farm house near Elmwood, N. J.

Another report has it that the two automobiles, while returning from Atlantic City, were racing and that the car which was wrecked tried to pass the other and skidded into a creek.

PORTER COUNTY IS AFRAID TO LOSE SALOONS

Went "Wet" Because Laporte Did—Option Vote is Saloon Triumph.

Valparaiso, Ind., June 4.—Porter county at the polls yesterday declared in favor of the licensed saloons by a majority placed at 375. This is the eleventh county in the state to vote "wet" under the option law.

The "wets" carried Valparaiso by 102 majority and carried ten of the twelve townships.

The township majorities are reported as folows:

For the "Wets"—Center, 134; Liberty, 38; Washington, 10; Morgan, 27; Union, 21; Westchester, 203; Jackson, 21; Pine, 75; Porter, 23; Pleasant, 45.

For the "Drys"—Boone, 199; Portage, 25.

Few Saloons Affected.

Six saloons and several "quart shops" are operated in the county. The saloon victory, however, means that this city and county will be regarded as a fertile field for the liquor men hereafter.

The effect of the Laporte county election, which resulted in such a great "wet" majority, was very apparent in the voting. A big percentage of the total vote was polled and it seems from the result that the county had a large element which feared loss of business in favor of Laporte county should this county vote "dry."

The option election was the culmination of the most intense political battle ever waged in Porter county. With splendid weather following a night of storm and rain that did not, however, dampen the ardor of the workers, the vote came out early. Excitement at the polls gave way to an earnest, silent effort to get out the vote that proved unusually successful. Women worked at the polls in Pleasant, Boone, Westchester, Jackson, Morgan and Union townships, furnishing an incident of much interest in what has been a spectacular campaign.

In the city of Valparaiso no women were at the polls. In the townships mentioned the fair workers served coffee and light lunches to the men and by their presence urged each voter on.

Student Vote Is Not Cast.

No student voting was attempted in the Seventh precinct, where several thousand students of Valparaiso university reside.

The "drys" had the county by at least 1,500 up to the Laporte election. The victory there of the "wets" spurred business men of this city to organize the Business Men's association, and three or four days ago they got into the fight with a spirit and vim that soon made itself felt. The "drys" closed the campaign Wednesday afternoon with a street demonstration in which several thousand women and children marched under stormy skies carrying appropriate banners. The "wets" closed with a large mass meeting addressed by Senator Proctor, of Elkhart.

The voting was fast and quiet, both sides employing so many automobiles and carriages that there was a surplus of them and they were sent to the outlying districts. The Business Men's organization, which takes the credit for any change of sentiment that may have followed the victory of the "wets" in Laporte county, was formed upon the initiative of two of the leading department stores which felt that with two "wet" counties adjoining much money would go out of the county. The organization, through J. Lowenstein and L. R. Skinner, the leaders, announced that the victory for the "wets" would mean the regulation of the liquor business by the business men themselves following a plan similar in character at Logansport.

The Vidette, the republican organ, came out editorially strongly for the "drys," though it gave space to the "wets." The Messenger was neutral, giving space to both sides. A big factor in the fight was that the "wets" were helped by some thirty of Laporte county's prominent citizens who helped along the victory in that county.

LUTHERANS FAVOR A UNION OF THEIR BRANCHES

General Synod at Richmond Advocates Fraternity of the Churches.

Richmond, Ind., June 4.—One of the marked features of the session of the general synod of the Lutheran Church of the United States displayed yesterday afternoon was that of a closer union among the various branches of the Lutheran church in America. Considerable time was given to hearing addresses by two fraternal delegates in attendance, Dr. Henry E. Jacobs, representing the general council of the Lutheran church, and Dr. W. H. Greever, of the United States Synod of the South.

The greetings brought by these two men were of the warmest nature, and it was apparent that the feeling for a closer union among the branches of the Lutherans is steadily growing. It is not likely that at any early date it will be possible to overcome the doctrinal barriers that divide the branches, but it does appear that it will be possible to have a co-operation that will result in much greater progress than has been possible in the past. Dr. Jacobs, who is a distinguished Lutheran authority, teacher and author, called attention to the many points of similarity between the general council and the general synod and the willingness of the former to co-operate, but at the same time its intention to preserve and defend the principles for which it stands.

Dr. Greever brought an encouraging message from the south, where, he says, there is a great field for the Lutheran church. He declares the possibilities of that section have just been realized.

The time of the afternoon session was devoted principally to a consideration of the report of the board of foreign missions. This board is carrying on extensive work in India and Africa and it was shown that more than $170,000 was expended in that cause.

Large Synod is Admitted.

There was an extended debate over the request of the committee for an increase of 5 cents a communicant in the apportionment for foreign missions, and the matter finally went to the apportionment committee for a subsequent report, adoption of the report being delayed. The apportionhad been 25 cents.

Much of the time of the morning session was taken up with the election of officers, the result being as follows:

President—Dr. H. K. Fenner, Louisville, Ky.

Secretary—Rev. F. P. Manhart, Sellings Grove, Pa.

Treasurer—George H. Knollenberg, Richmond, Ind.

Dr. H. K. Fenner has been secretary of the synod for six years and Mr. Knollenberg has served in the capacity of treasurer for a like period.

The gavels were presented to the presiding officer. One is made of olive wood, secured in Jerusalem, and came from Rev. L. B. Wolf, secretary of the board of foreign missions, and the other is of solid oak, secured near Martburg Castle, Germany, and was presented by Rev. C. E. Hay, of Baltimore, Md.

The New York synod, which has been formed of the Hartwick, New York and New Jersey and the Franckean synods, was admitted on recommendation of committee. New York synod was formed by the voluntary dissolution of the three synods. There were two meetings this evening, both being anniversaries of the Foreign Mission society. The speakers were Rev. John Aberth, Mechanicsburg, Pa., and Rev. Victor McCauley, missionary to India, addressed one, and Rev. L. B. Wolf, Baltimore, Md., and Rev. C. E. Harris, missionary to India, the other.

PEACE PROSPECT IN PHILADELPHIA IS GOOD

Emissaries of Strikers in Conference With the Transit Company.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 4.—A subcommittee of the striking motormen and conductors of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company was appointed this afternoon to confer with officials of the company. The committee will demand that the rate of wages be fixed at 25 cents an hour instead of 22 cents unless the company can show that it is unable to pay that rate.

If the company declares that it cannot pay 25 cents an hour, the city controller will be asked to furnish proof that the company's declaration is correct. The city is a partner in the transit company business and has access to its accounts.

Both sides have agreed to make concessions and predictions are made that there will be a complete resumption of street car service by tomorrow.

This situation has been brought about by the republican leaders of the city whose plans for tomorrow's primary elections have been interfered with this week by spirit of turbulence that spread over the city in the last three days.

The Mayor's Terms.

After a conference in the city hall which lasted until three o'clock this morning Mayor Reyburn made public a letter addressed to John B. Parsons, president of the transit company, in which he offers terms for a settlement of the strike as follows:

"All former employes shall be restored to their former positions; arrangements to be made by which a standard uniform adopted by the company may be purchased by your employes from any one of not less than five reputable clothiers; your employes to form a representative body to consist of one of their number elected by a majority vote from each barn, which body shall in turn designate a smaller working committee of its own members, which shall from time to time be accorded full opportunity to take up with the proper officers of the company any and all questions affecting the rights of employes; this committee to take up at once with the management of the company schedules, with a view of making such changes in hours and working conditions as are consistent with proper service to the public, the rate of wages beginning July 1, 1909, to be twenty-two cents an hour.

"These conditions to continue for one, two or three years, as may be agreed upon."

Traction Head Accepts.

President Parsons made an immediate reply, in which he said:

"After communicating with such members of the board as I have been able to reach, I answer that the committee accepts your suggestions and stands ready to carry them out in their full intent and spirit."

The city early today was quiet. There is no improvement in the street car service over that of yesterday and with a heavy rain falling the discomfort of the public is greater than ever.

While there appears to be no doubt that the proposed agreement set forth in Mayor Reyburn's letter will be accepted by both sides, there is still some dissatisfaction expressed by strikers. The rate of wages to be paid after July 1, namely 22 cents an hour is not received with enthusiasm. The company before the strike began announced that wages would be increased July 1 from 21 to 22c, therefore the men do not look upon this as a concession, as they ask 25c an hour.

Some Important Concessions.

The most important points conceded the men are the right to purchase uniforms from whom they please, and the matter of shorter hours. The men asked that they be given a ten hour day within twelve consecutive hours instead of splitting up their time. The company does not exactly concede this but agrees to change the hours and working conditions "as are consistent with proper service to the public."

Michael J. Brennan, president of the street car men's local union said today that he saw no reason why the agreement should not be adopted by both sides with a few slight modifications.

The company announced today that no time would be lost in reinstating the men and expressed the hope to resume service tonight.

STRENGTH FOR THE STOMACH

A Philadelphia Man Tells What the Tonic Treatment Did For Him.

The experience of sufferers from stomach trouble, who have tried the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, has been that their trouble has disappeared as soon as the blood was made pure. The numerous disorders of the stomach, as catarrh of the stomach, acid stomach, nervous dyspepsia, neuralgia of the stomach, gastritis, and lack of tone, have the same underlying cause—impure blood. In each case the stomach is weak. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the stomach with the strength it needs by euriching and purifying the blood. Pure blood gives tone to the nerves, muscles, and glands of the stomach and makes it able to properly perform the work of digestion.

Mr. Thomas J. Young, of No. 1246 Callowhill street, Philadelphia, Pa., says:

"While working in a wholesale house in Liverpool, England, some years ago, I was afflicted with stomach trouble and suffered from constipation, bad breath and sick headaches. I was forced to be absent from business for a week at a time. Food nauseated me and would feel like a weight on my stomach. My complexion became sallow, I had palpitation of the heart upon the least exertion and was so nervous that the slamming of a door would cause me to tremble like a leaf. I could not sleep well but would wake up suddenly very often through the night. I had a great deal of headache and dizziness.

"I was under the care of a doctor for about two years but received only slight relief. I also tried many medicines and weakened myself by using purgatives. When I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the paper I determined to give them a trial. I carefully followed the directions with the result that I soon became my normal self and put on flesh rapidly. This happened five years ago and I have never had a recurrence of the trouble."

Our diet book is sent free to anyone upon postal card request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Vienna, W. Va.—"I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but got no relief. My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. EMMA WHEATON, Vienna, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS AND MECHANICS.

Farmers and mechanics frequently meet with slight accidents and injuries which cause them much annoyance and loss of time. A cut or bruise may be cured in about one-third the time usually required by applying Chamberlain's Liniment as soon as the injury is received. This liniment is also valuable for sprains, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. There is no danger of blood poisoning resulting from an injury when Chamberlain's Liniment is applied before the parts become inflamed and swollen. For sale by all druggists.

SOME IMMEDIATE THINGS.

A few weeks ago in this column we called attention to the unrecoverable loss to this city within a few years of several of the most admirable park sites within the corporate limits. Those that have gone out the realm of possibility have gone forever. This great public crime of neglect will never be fully expiated nor can it ever be, for the community will go on to the end of its career, however long that may be, feeling its tremendous losses and lamenting them. Some reparation for the sinful omissions of those who have worn the vestments of power and authority in times not remotely past lies within the performance of those now wearing and soon to wear those vestments. But action must be decisive and taken with dispatch.

Parks and playgrounds must be secured now. Development at once to the full of possibilities may not be immediately practicable or on the whole desirable. But the sites should be secured and added to the public domains of this people. Every day of delay sees some fresh encroachment upon possible sites, some new addition to the cost of securing them.

It is nonsense to talk of this city's possession of a park "system." Fort Wayne has nothing of the sort. But such a thing may be realized at no very distant day if the beginning is made now. Public playgrounds present a less perplexing problem and present needs as well as future contingencies may very well and with not an overload of difficulty be provided for now.

But there must be no further delay. Fort Wayne for a dozen years has been filling up itself with improvements on property within old limits and not expanding so much into new territory. The vacant places are disappearing. They will soon be gone.

BREWERS URGE SALOON REFORM

More than one speaker who addressed the national convention of brewers in Atlantic City this week gave emphasis to the need of saloon reform if the brewers are to save their business. Back rooms, blind tiger features, gambling annexes and social evil attachments were pointed to as cancerous evils afflicting the retail liquor traffic and strongly deprecated.

If more than deprecation comes of this stated recognition of the phases of the saloon business that are injuring the breweries and menacing their profitable existence then the usual rule will be reversed. When the brewers get together they grow very candid and confess that the general fashion of conducting saloons is injurious to the business. The evils are pointed out and condemned. And then? Nothing.

The brewers keep right on delivering their products to all their old customers, good and bad alike, and the business pursues its wonted courses.

The American brewers during the past two years since the tide of temperance has been so rapidly rising have done more recognizing of evil, more "resoluting" against the vicious phases of the saloon traffic and more blowing about the natural and acquired virtues of the composite beer brewing industry than in all other time of their history—and nothing else.

A singular instance of police persecution has been brought to light in New York city by Supreme Court Justice Gaynor, one of the ablest and best known jurists in the east. A young man of Brooklyn was taken into custody through some mistake of the police. He was registered and his picture placed in the rogues' gallery. Then his troubles began. He was hounded by the police. He was frequently arrested. His good repute was lost. His life became an almost unbearable misery. Every effort to get his picture removed from the rogues' gallery was unavailing. Then the great jurist took up his case; and after failing in effort taken before the police commissioner, appealed to the mayor of Greater New York. It is not easy to believe the outrage and persecution the young man has been subjected to, but Justice Gaynor is responsible for the story. In this case it appears the police are ruining a life and crucifying a much injured young man merely to vindicate a mistake.

Bristol, Virginia, is aspiring to great things in commerce. A local option election has been ordered, the design being to carry Washington county "wet" and then develop the booze business to something worth while. Bristol is on the line between Virginia and Tennessee. Tennessee is as dry as the inside of a muff. Bristol figures that by guaranteeing the liquor business through a "wet" election forty or fifty saloons and numerous jobbing houses and bootlegging dens can be built up and supported. Bristol, it should be remarked, is a town of about 2,500 souls—or rather people. The peculiar character of Bristol's ambitions involves the question of souls in some doubt. Bristol, with half a hundred saloons and as many more bootleg joints, will finally turn out to be quite a nice place for one to go and take his family.

Jersey is going to attack mosquitoes from new quarter. Petroleum treatment and drainage processes too expensive. Germans have a plant that is native of Africa which spreads itself over a pond or swamp in a short time, covering the surface to a depth of about three inches. This either pens the mosquitoes in or shuts them out. Efficacious in either event. If they get in to breed they can't get out to circulate and if they stay out they can't breed. Seems to have the skeet goin' and comin'. But what else will it do? Better find out about that. English sparrow guaranteed to kill insects and it will. But it wanted to monopolize the job and did.

General Leonard Wood is now commander-in-chief of the United States army. Up to the time of the Spanish-American war he had been a medical officer for some twelve years. He went out at the request of Theodore Roosevelt as colonel of the Rough Riders. Thence forward his career was cut out for him and over the heads of many war trained veterans of long service he is jumped to the head of the army. He is a clever, capable man and has proved it. But so, doubtless, are some of those officers of long service over whom he has been jumped.

Senator Bill Stone tore into Senator Nels Aldrich, as the prize-fight chroniclers would put it, and had him breathing hard in about half a round. But the Providence boy came back game and hard and the Missouri soft foot-worker going to the clinches to save himself. And then Mr. LaFollette did some raving and Mr. Tillman simply had spasms. All in all it was a sensational day in the senate and the manifold beneficences of the new tariff by the several processes of argument and the lapse of time were brought one day nearer the ultimate consumer.

So little has been heard of Abdul Hamid the past week or two there is room for suspicion Ab has furnished the principal properties for a solemn state procedure. The ex-sick man is in Turkey—or was—and the expected sometimes happens there.

Panama canal libel hearing is shot over to next October. Meanwhile, perhaps, lacerations will heal and the lacerated conclude there isn't much to be got in libel suit anyhow.

Philadelphia mobs do not appear to be so slow, whatever may of truth be said of the city in general.

Do you feel civically revived? Better take the whole course of treatment and be sure of it.

VANDERLIP IS FOR MONOPOLY.

Favors Exclusive Franchise, With Regulation, for Public Utilities.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 4.—Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank, spoke before the national electric light convention last night on "Electrical Securities." He said:

"The public is coming to realize that its rights are best safeguarded by granting monopolies in public utilities, and then subjecting them to proper regulation. The time is here when investors in electrical lighting stocks and bonds must be considered if the tremendous growth of the business is to continue.

"The tendency of the time, it seems to me, is in the direction of recognizing the natural monopolistic nature of the electric lighting business. The public has pretty well learned that it gains little by competition in this field, especially where rival concerns spring up with the express purpose of selling out at a price that must later be paid by the consumer."

ADMIRAL LEMLY IN ASYLUM.

Head of Schley Court of Inquiry Insane as Result of Trial.

Washington, June 4.—Rear Admiral Samuel C. Lemly, retired, who presided over the court of inquiry that investigated Admiral Schley's conduct during the Spanish-American war, has gone insane and has been committed to St. Elizabeth's hospital for the insane in this city. News of his commitment did not become known until today, although he has been at the institution for several weeks.

His mental breakdown is attributed directly to the vexations and troubles that grew out of the famous controversy between Admiral Sampson and Admiral Schley. He was judge advocate of the navy when the court of inquiry was held. He is a native of North Carolina.

Ex-President Finds New Sport Around Kijabe.

Kijabe, British East Africa, June 4.—The members of the Roosevelt party, who arrived yesterday afternoon on a special train from Nairobi and spent the night in camp near the railroad station, started out this morning to visit the local station of the Africa Inland mission, an American organization. The party will take luncheon with the missionaries. This morning Mr. Roosevelt spent some time shooting monkeys, particularly the Colobus.

The Year of the Square Deal

Every year ought to be the citizen's year.

But every year is not.

Very rarely any year is.

The habit of running our municipal affairs from the wrong end threatens to become chronic.

The public servants of the people are in danger of forgetting they are servants and that the service for which they are chosen is not merely an official perquisite.

Even when they recall the fact that they are the people's civic servants they are apt to forget the hours and the diligence that go with satisfactory service.

So it is lucky for Fort Wayne and every city that once in a while a year comes around when the people, the source of all public authority, not only demand that a new course be steered in public policies and practices, but themselves dictate as to who shall steer that course.

It is the urgent needs of ALL THE PEOPLE that call to the helm the right one to hold the tiller at such a time.

The favored few are apt to fare hard at the hands of the aroused many when the humbler citizens of the community exact the justice formerly denied them.

The year 1909 is peculiarly not the year of the favored few in municipal, state or national affairs, if the press record of public opinion is correct.

Those who have followed from day to day the revision of the tariff by Congress have noted how every proposal that could be construed into FAVORING THE FEW at the EXPENSE OF THE MANY has brought down an avalanche of public indignation.

The idea that injustice—the denial of fair play—is a permissible expedient in any emergency in national or municipal affairs is bound to be repudiated today by a free and justice-loving people. We will have none of it!

The citizens have been educated by the events of the past few years and it no longer requires a Democrat to denounce protection or a Republican to see the limitations of free trade.

The denial of the square deal and of fair play in the year 1909 marks any theory of free trade or protection for prompt rejection by public opinion.

Let every Fort Wayne citizen insist that the urgent needs of his city shall dictate its policies and those policies shall find their most likely and able exponent for administration, and 1909 will usher in a new and better era for this community.

To every citizen his rights.

To all citizens their civic power.

Then to Fort Wayne growth and a lasting prosperity!

SCHOLASTIC NOTES.

Final Examinations in Progress in Cathedral Schools.

Final examinations are in progress this week at St. Augustine's academy and the Cathedral Boys' schools. The students have displayed marked progress in their year's work and their examinations thus far are most encouraging. Rev. A. E. Lafontaine, diocesan school superintendent, examined at the academy today.

The sixty-fifth annual commencement of St. Augustine's will be held at Library hall on Friday evening, June 18. Instead of the usual class night at the academy this year the graduates will read their essays in the hall. The program that is being arranged promises to be unsually attractive and entertaining.

The Boys' school will not have a commencement program this year as there will be no graduates. Certificates, however, will be given those completing the grammar school course.

TWO HUNDRED ATTENDED.

Redeemer Church Society Program at St. Paul's School Hall.

Marked by the attendance of over two hundred people the fifth annual entertainment given by the Young People's society of Redeemer Lutheran church, Thursday evening, was an eminent success. The program was presented in the St. Paul's Lutheran school hall and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. "The District School," a comic sketch for twenty characters and "Box and Cox," a mirth provoking dialogue for three characters were the roles in which the young people demonstrated their ristrionic ability. John V. Koester, a popular young vocalist of this city, rendered several solos to the satisfaction and pleasure of the large audience and Miss Catherine Vonderau won generous applause in her reading entitled "Jane's Conquest." The players were coached by Mr. Koester and performed their work admirably. The Walther league orchestra of St. Paul's church made a fine showing in the excellent musical program rendered.

Manual Training Exhibit of Pupils

An exhibition of work of uncommon interest is on display today at the Normal school, in the Lakeside school building. It is the annual showing of manual training work done by the children in the school and the student teachers who are taking an eighteen months' course of training in normal work under the instruction of Miss Flora Wilber, principal of the school. This school is the only one in the city where the children of primary and lower grammar grades have regular manual training and it is done in this particular building in order to train the young women who have chosen teaching as their occupation. Consequently manual training in every department is a part of each day's program. What is accomplished can best be seen by a visit to the exhibition, which will be on display, probably for two or three days, but the greatest result, that of development in the individual child, can only be fully appreciated in the home of the child himself.

The line of manual training is construction work chiefly, but weaving and book binding are begun in the lowest grade and thethree lines of development are carried upwards to the point where the student teacher shows her skill in wood work of beautiful finish in such pieces as pen trays, plate racks, lamps, small stands and other articles of household use. In the beginning the child learns to handle scissors and pencil. He draws a picture form by following the outline of a solid, then he learns to follow the line with the scissors. He learns weaving principles by intertwining flat splints at first and by the end of the year can make a pretty mat of colored paper by the process of weaving. He learns to distinguish and name forms to fold paper and to paste pictures in the center of a card. A little later he uses yarn on tiny looms made by older pupils and make tea cozies or holders for hot handles. As he progresses the folded paper becomes a box, after a while it becomes a firm pasted box of cardboard, then in a higher grade it becomes a box with a lid and in the highest grade the box has become a beautiful perfected, glossy, red article such as are found in stores for merchandise. During the process of box making the child learns to work from a pencil drawing and to make the exact measurements necessary for perfect work. The weaving develops along the same lines. From the simple holder the child learns to make a mat of two colors, a hammock for dolly of hammock twine, at first with threads going but one way, later with threads in both directions. From home he brings a wooden standard to swing his hammock on. The threads are knotted and tied firmly and the miniature article is the child's own design as to color and weaving. The children of the second grade have a doll house made by boys of another building under the direction of the high school manual training department, which they have completely furnished. Its rooms are papered with paper that the children tinted with their watercolors. Its floors are covered with mats which they wove. At its windows hang tiny curtains which the children hemmed and stenciled a design upon of their own choosing. In each room is cardboard furniture which the children made and on the cardboard bed are furnishings the children made, even hemming the sheets. Tiny pictures have been framed and hung on the walls of this little house. It has taken the manual training time of the year to make the house furnishings, but the time of its lasting lessons is indeterminable.

Little sweaters for dolls have been made by every child in another grade and they were made on looms furnished by older pupils. In this room the book binding has progressed to the octavo size and the leaves are sewed by regular bindery stitches. Here basketry is begun and with raffia the children weave with basket stitch. Still higher grades show intricate patterns in weaving hammocks, basket work is shown in variety of weaves, original designs and colors. More tools have come into use. To the scissors of the first grade has been gradually added ruler, compass and triangle. Working drawings are used in everything. In the higher grades the pupils have made for the younger pupils, but they learn surprisingly early to make their own drawings. In the fifth grade to be explicit. In this grade the rug making has developed into the intricacies of the Kis Kilim stitch and designs and beautiful rugs of twelve by fourteen inches or larger have been made, no two alike in coloring or exact designing. Reed baskets have been made and they are colored and varnished. In every branch of manual training work may be seen the process of construction so the visitor can see with his own eyes how it is done. In the sixth grade wood work has been taught and a bench from the workshop has been brought upstairs to the room, where the most of the display is shown, so the visitor can watch the process, if he wants to. Of examples of finished work are key tags, plant labels, cord winders, whisk broom holders. It is all most interesting to the beholder and should be seen whether one has children of school age or not, merely as a matter of understanding the training afforded in the school room of today.

One Piece Dressing Sacque.

(By Mrs. Jane Ford.)

498-6 SIZES 32 TO 42

The sacque pictured here is easy to make and will be effective when completed. The pattern may be bought in sizes and will fit women from thirty-two to forty-two inches bust measure. To copy it for the average person requires two and five-eighths yards of goods twenty-seven inches wide, two andone-half yards thirty-six inches wide, or one and one-quarter yards forty-four inches in width.

When making this garment, in order to economize in material, and to avoid piecing, which might bring the seaming in an ugly place, make a seam at the center back.

Cotton, wool or silk material will be equally pretty made in this style, for the pattern is cut so it appears full and loose and hangs in graceful folds from the shoulders. The sleeves may hang straight, or they can be draped by small plaits held in place by a rosette of lace or bow of ribbon.

A fetching little breakfast jacket, made in this style, was of cream challis, over which background were scattered tiny pink rosebuds, with green leaves.

The edges of the jacket were buttonhole scalloped with heavy embroidery twist, in a shade matching the green of the leaves. Arranged around the neck, one side of the front and the sleeves was a knife plaited frill of cream colored net about three inches wide. The closing was effected by a long loose bow of one inch wide pink and green satin ribbon; loose bows of the same kind of ribbon held the draping of the sleeves in place.

A pretty, but much simpler and less expensive way of making such a garment would be to bind or face the edges with the same or a contrasting material.

When the goods for the jacket is of a soft weave, such as lawn, dimity or silk mull, it will add much to the good appearance of the garment if a frill of Val. edging is arranged around the neck and allowed to fall in soft cascades down the front.

JUMPED IN CAR'S PATH.

Mrs. Mary Herbst the Means of Averting Collision With Traction Wagon.

Mrs. Mary Herbst, 1501 East Lewis street, was the means of averting a collision between a westbound Lewis street car and the traction repair wagon northbound at the corner of Lewis and Barr streets about 7:30 o'clock last night. Mrs. Herbst was standing on the corner awaiting a friend and she noticed the repair wagon coming down Barr street and the car approaching from the east at the same time. Realizing what would be likely to happen should both continue, Mrs. Herbst threw aside her umbrella and jumped into the track in front of the street car, waving her white dress. The speed of the car was slackened and the repair wagon cleared the track just in the nick of time.

JURY FINDS GUILEY NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

Verdict Frees Man Accused of Death of Brother-in-Law at Rome City.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Albion, Ind., June 4.—Owen B. Guiley, on trial in the Noble circuit court on an indictment charging him with the murder of his brother-in-law, Edwin Wright, at Rome City, was acquitted by the verdict of the jury, returned when the session of court opened this morning. Judge Wrigley at once discharged the prisoner. Hon. Henry Colerick, of Fort Wayne, made a powerful plea in defense of the prisoner before the case went to the jury at 5 o'clock Thursday evening.

Guiley attacked Wright—who was married to Guiley's sister—with a stick of stove wood at the Wright home in Rome City in February last when he found Wright beating his wife. Wright was roughly handled by Guiley, and his death occurred within an hour. Guiley was at once arrested, but was subsequently released on bond, and in his defense he asserted that the death of Wright was due in fact to heart disease and not to the effect of the blows administered by Guiley with the stick of wood.

Sentiment from the first was largely with Guiley. The witnesses including Wright's widow, other relatives and prominent citizens testified that the murdered man was quarrelsome and always seeking trouble, that he frequently whipped his wife and threatened her. Guiley was able to show his own good character, and along this line was a deposition from the Hon. Champ Clark, democratic leader in the United States house of representatives, who knew Guiley well when the latter lived in Missouri. Clark said he had known the man for fifteen years, and knew him to be an upright and peaceful citizen.

TRADE WITH CHINA SHOWING GREAT INCREASE

Washington, June 4.—As the result of a return toward normal conditions the American exports of cotton goods to China are again on the increase according to the bureau of statistics. Exports of cotton cloths to China averaged in the fiscal years 1905 and 1906, 486,000,000 yards per annum; in 1907 and 1908 they averaged but 68,000,000 per annum, or one-seventh as much as the average of 1905-06.

"This large falling off," says the bureau in an official statement, "was due chiefly at least to the fact that the imports of that country in 1905 and 1906 were abnormally large and far in excess of the actual consuming power of that market as a whole and especially of North China, whose financial condition had been so affected by events during the war as to reduce its purchasing power below the estimates upon which the large importations had been based."

The increase in the current fiscal year, 1909, it is said, is in turn the natural result of the absorption in that country of the accumulated stocks and a return to normal demands upon the sections of the world from which China has been accustomed to draw her supplies of foreign made cotton cloths. Cotton goods exported to China aggregated 16,786,348 yards as against 7,237,119 in April of last year, and in the ten months ending with April, 1909, the total exports of cotton cloths to China was 100,116,737 yards as against 30,597,101 yards in the corresponding period of 1908.

WILL LOSE HIS OFFICE.

Alabama Sheriff Impeached for Permitting a Lynching.

Montgomery, Ala., June 4.—Because he allowed a mob to take a negro from jail and hang him on the night of Jan. 21, Sheriff Frank Cazalas, of Mobile county, was impeached yesterday by the supreme court and an order issued removing him from office.

This is the first instance in the history of the south where such action has ever been suggested and a conviction in the first case tried under Alabama's new constitutional provision which seeks to lay upon sheriffs the responsibility of protecting prisoners under their control.

After the lynching of the negro the grand jury of Mobile county acquitted Cazalas of blame. A mass meeting condemned the action and a petition was sent Governor Comer urging impeachment. He ordered proceedings before the supreme court.

WELL; SENT TO LEPER COLONY.

Ten Supposed Victims Found, After Years, Not to Have Disease.

Honolulu, June 4.—After some of them had spent twenty years of their life in the leper settlement on the island of Molokai, ten of eleven supposed lepers who were returned here at the instance of the territorial legislative committee for re-examination, have been found free of the disease. Of these two are boys of 6 and 7 years, but the others vary in age from 27 to 79.

A pathetic feature of the re-examination is the probability that some of the older patients will petition to be returned to the island, as they have been shut off from the world and their friends so long that they have no place else to go.

A few of the patients were sent to the settlement before the bacteriological test for leprosy was discovered, and it is believed that in some cases a natural cure has been effected.

Nineteen other supposed lepers will be brought from the settlement for re-examination in a short time.

...OW SATISFIED AGED ...PHYSICIAN WAS MURDERED

Chicago, June 4.—Yesterday's interest having demonstrated almost beyond a doubt that Dr. John T. Binkley, ..., of Evansville, Ind., was murdered this city Wednesday, the police today began an active search for the murderer. At first local officials were inclined, from the fact that a pistol was found by the slain physician's side, to insist that he had taken his own life, but the discovery that he carried no weapon, was in the best of spirits at teh time of his sudden death in the Wellington hotel and that the position of the wound rendered it extremely improbable that the wound was self-inflicted, has led to a readjustment of official views. Today research was directed chiefly at tracing the pistol found by the dead man's side.

Frank Keller, a youth employed in a coal yard, was arrested this afternoon in connection with the case. Keller is accused in an anonymous letter of having talked to a companion about "dirty money" secured from an elevator boy at the Wellington hotel and of an "old man" who was "dead easy." Keller strenuously denied the accusation, declaring that he had never used the language quoted, nor, he said, did he know any employe of the hotel.

"I am inclined to believe Keller's story," said Captain O'Brien, "but we will take him before the various employes of the hotel before releasing him."

Dr. Binkley's body was shipped to Shawneetown, Ill., his old home, today for burial.

LIQUOR MEN TRYING TO TAKE MONROE AGAIN

Want the Township Back in the Wet Column Once More.

Liquor interests have been busy in the last two weeks trying to get Monroe township back into the wet column and there was filed today with County Auditor George W. Lindemuth two list of withdrawals from any and all remonstrances against the sale of intoxicants. One of the lists contained 65 names and the other fifty-six, making a total of 121.

The two years under the old remonstrance will expire on Monday of next week and a new one is due this afternoon and it is not known whether the withdrawals will be sufficiet to defeat the sale of liquor in the township. There have been no applications filed for liquor licenses and none can until the July session of the county commissioners.

A remonstrance against the sale of liquor in Jackson township has been filed and up to late this afternoon there had been no withdrawals and there are no applications for licenses. Big fights were made in these townships by the anti-saloon league two years ago before they were finally closed to the sale of liquor. Since the decision rendered by Judge Merryman in the Young case there have been three more applications from the rolling mills.

The damage will amount to thousands of dollars. The Elkhart river is rising at the rate of two inches an hour and is already three or four feet over its banks. Much of the corn land is under water, and the crop will be ruined. The farmers are doubtful if they will be able to cultivate the clay land this season at all.

Her Savings Put in House of Another, Who May Claim It

Woman Writer Finds That Under Common Law She Does not Own Residence She Built—Some One Made Mistake Which May be Costly—Lawyer on Whose Lot House Was Erected Unwilling to Exchange Property.

New York, June 4.—To find sufficient money to buy a lot and build a house after years of stinting and saving, and then to discover that it had been erected on the property of another, who could, if he saw fit, claim it as his own under the common law, is a rare bit of hard luck, but this is just the situation which Mrs. Emma Paddock Telford, a writer, is confronting today. The disputed ground is in Palisade, N. J. There are parallel cases on record.

Mrs. Telford at present lives at No. 1462 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, with her children. She is a widow, and it was by exercising only the closest economy that she got the money together in the last few years to build a home in the suburbs. It has long been her most earnest wish to have a home in the country, so that her children would have the surroundings she desired for them as they grew up.

About a year ago Mrs. Telford found that it would be within her power to realize her ambition. She opened up negotiations with the Hudson Real Estate company for the purchase of a piece of ground in Edgewood lane, just south of Bluff road, Palisade. The lot she selected is No. 7 on the company's books and has a value of $2,500. It was just the very place that she had been looking for and she promptly closed the deal for its purchase.

Then Mrs. Telford arranged with Whitford & King, architects, of No. 160 Fifth avenue, to prepare plans for an English cottage. Every little detail about the residence she arranged herself. The arrangement of the rooms and the architecture of the dwelling were just as she wanted. This done, she gave the contract for the erection of the house to John Kennedy, a builder. It was to cost $5,000.

At the time the lot was purchased, Mrs. Telford says, the ground was not marked out by stakes, and it was hard for her to tell just which piece of property was hers. The plot is about 50 by 110 feet, and she knew it only by its number. But the ground was surveyed before Kennedy started to build and she had no idea as she watched the cottage rise on its site from week to week that a mistake had been made. Wherein lies the responsibility for the mistake Mrs. Telford doesn't know.

It wasn't until the cottage had been completed, all except a few details, that Mrs. Telford and the agents discovered that the house had been built on lot No. 6, the property of George Ludlow, a lawyer, of No. 2 Rector street, Manhattan. The error was found when she made one of the final payments to the builder, taking the last of her capital, $800, from the bank to do so. This discovery was a shock to everybody concerned; the agents, the architects, the builder, and particularly Mrs. Telford.

MRS. TELFORD'S HOME. MRS. EMMA PADDOCK TELFORD.

When Mrs. Telford went to Ludlow to straighten the matter out she found new complications. She called on the lawyer in the hope that he would be willing to exchange lots with her, but she, says Ludlow didn't take to this suggestion. In talking with him she learned that under the common law he may justly lay claim to the house she built, and if he so desired refuse even to permit her to move it.

There were various other suggestions made as to the exchange of the property, but the strange tangle is yet unravelled. Mrs. Telford says a proposition has been made that she pay Ludlow $500 extra for his property, and she believes this will be necessary in order that she come to some satisfactory terms with him.

Madam, See What You Lose On 5-Cent Cans

The 10-cent cans of Van Camp's Milk give you sixteen ounces—the 5-cent cans only six ounces. Note how much this means.

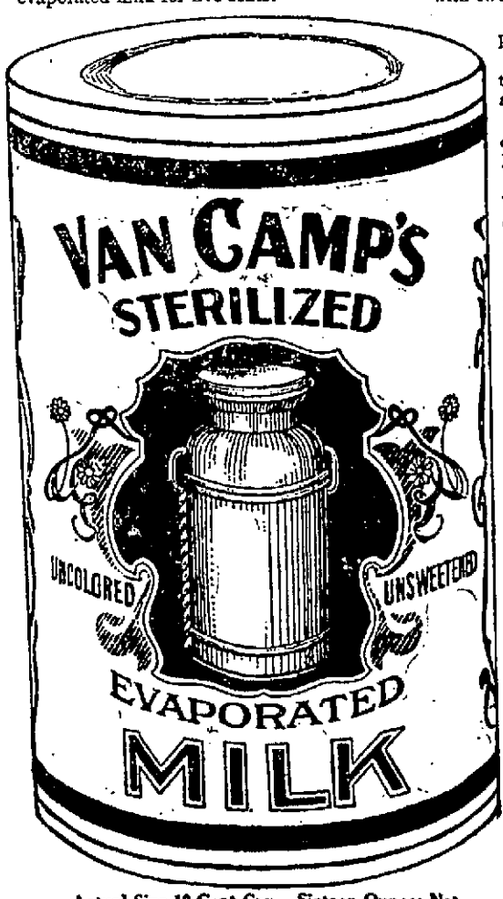
You get six ounces of evaporated milk in a 5-cent can of Van Camp's.

But you get sixteen ounces in the 10-cent can—a full pint. And you get the same milk in both.

That is one of the ways in which you lose money by buying the 5-cent can. Let us explain them all.

No Maker Gives More

No maker gives more than six ounces of evaporated milk for five cents.



Actual Size 10-Cent Can. Sixteen Ounces Net.

Thin milk, with too little water evaporated, costs just the same as Van Camp's.

So you get just as much of Van Camp's as you get of the poorest milk on the market.

But you spend more than you ought when you buy any milk in the 5-cent size.

The milk as it comes to you is 28 per cent solids, 8 per cent butter fat.

If you replace the water which we take out, you should get rich milk for about six cents per quart.

That is based on buying the 10-cent cans, and buying them by the case. For grocers give discounts on cases.

But the 5-cent cans—even when bought by the case—make the milk cost you over eight cents per quart when you replace the water.

So you will see you are paying just one-third more when you buy the 5-cent cans.

Use It for Cooking

The trouble is here: Most people who buy the 5-cent cans don't use Van Camp's for cooking.

They use it for coffee and cereals, perhaps. But they still use raw milk for making milk dishes. And there they lose the greatest service that Van Camp's Milk can render.

Milk dishes made with Van Camp's have a flavor and richness which raw milk never gives. You will use Van Camp's forever when you once learn the difference.

The reason is that raw milk separates. The butter fat rises and the solids fall. When milkman's milk is used in cooking, it generally comes very far from whole milk.

Van Camp's is whole milk. It has all of the butter fat, all of the solids it had when it came from the cow. It will make your milk dishes twice as delicious as dishes made of raw milk.

Van Camp's Milk Keeps

Van Camp's Milk will keep because it is thoroughly sterilized. An opened can will keep 24 hours in ordinary weather. It will keep 48 hours or longer on ice.

If you use only part, you can leave the rest in the can and use it next day. You don't need to buy in small cans for fear the opened cans will spoil.

Our Object Is This

It may seem better for us to sell six ounces for 5 cents than sixteen ounces for 10 cents.

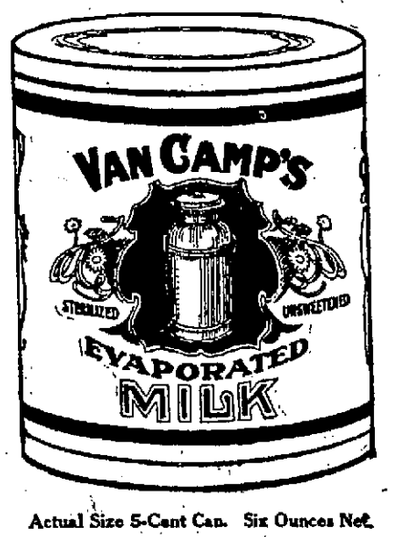
But it isn't. Our interest lies in making this milk economical. It should completely displace milkman's milk.

Van Camp's Milk serves every purpose fully twice better than raw milk. You will use more of it when you learn these facts, and learn the economical can.

Then the usual milk sold in 5-cent cans is often a vastly inferior milk.

So we urge you to buy the 10-cent cans and get the full worth of your money.

And don't buy from day to day, as you bought milkman's milk. Buy a case at a time and get the case discount. Then you will have the best milk in America for less than poor milk costs.



Actual Size 5-Cent Can. Six Ounces Net.

WARN BRIDE-ELECT AGAINST MAN SHE IS TO WED

United Secret Code Used to Convey the Message to Paris.

Washington, June 4.—The state department has been asked by a prominent Washington clergyman and a woman well known in social circles in New York, Washington and London to prevent, if possible, an impending international marriage between a relative of the woman, possibly her sister, and an alleged nobleman, said to be an Italian, the ceremony having been arranged to take place, it is said, in Paris this week.

The clergyman is Rev. John B. Quinn, assistant to Rev. J. Henning Nelms, rector of the Church of the Ascension, and his companion Miss Frances A. Garwood, of New York and Washington. Their visit to the state department was to get the department to send a cipher message to the relative of Miss Garwood, who, it is said, is now in Paris, arranging for her marriage to the nobleman in the case. They wished to use the state department secret code, so that the message would be strictly private. It was sent to the American embassy in Paris for delivery and the embassy will be careful, it is said, that the nobleman does not see it.

Intended Bride Warned.

It is stated that the message warned the young woman that the person she was about to contract a matrimonial alliance with was not even an Italian citizen and never had been. Instead, she was told, he was an Austrian by birth and had resided in New York for twenty or twenty-five years. Further information concerning the man was that he was a physician and surgeon of wide reputation in New York and the head of a hospital; that he was married and had a wife and son who are said to be living in New York. It is believed that the mistake about his being an Italian subject arose from the fact that the man frequented the Italian sections of New York.

Man 60 Years Old.

The alleged nobleman's age is given as about 60 years, while Miss Garwood's sister is reported to be at least twenty years younger. It is pointed out at the state department that the government had acted in no capacity other than to transmit the messages to the ambassador at Paris.

After the cablegram was sent the callers hurried away. Efforts later to secure more details from Rev. Mr. Quinn at his residence were fruitless. Miss Garwood could not be located again. It is is known that she is stopping at the home of friends here, but probably will return to New York today or tomorrow.

Much mystery attaches to the identity of the man in the case. The diplomats who may know his name refuse to divulge it.

The Sisterhood of Emanu-El has just opened a new branch in the form of a home for Jewish girls in East Sixty-first street, New York. The institution is primarily intended to provide for girls under 16 whom a first offense has brought to the attention of the juvenile courts, as well as for girls who have been tried for minor offenses in the court of general sessions. The building is well equipped, and it is intended to give the girls all the comforts of a well regulated home and to train them in sewing, cooking and other household duties.

END OF A RED NOSE

New Flesh-Colored Product That Heals and Hides Skin Imperfections.

A peculiar feature of poslam, a new skin discovery, is that it is naturally flesh-colored and contains no grease, so that when used on the face for the complexion, or for pimples, red noses, or any other inflammations, blemishes, or discolorations, its presence cannot be detected. It can thus be applied in the daytime, the natural color of the skin being immediately restored and the actual healing and curing process accomplished in a few days. It can be had of any pharmacist who sells pure drugs. Meyer Brothers' Drug Stores make a specialty of it. Fifty cents worth will answer either for the troubles mentioned or in curing ordinary cases of eczema. Itching stops at once.

The Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 Wes Twenty-fifth Street, New York, are the sole dispensing agents for poslam in the United States, and will send an experimental quantity free by mail in plain wrapper to all who write for it. This will show results after an overnight application

FRICK ALARMED BY GREAT GROWTH OF GARY

In New Steel Town Sees a Menace to Trade Glory of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 4.—H. C. Frick has become worried about the future of Pittsburg, and he has called the mayor and other leading citizens of Pittsburg to stand by him in trying to hold the city to its former prestige, if not make it a better and larger city than before.

There was a conference between Mayor Magee, some of the leading financiers and Mr. Frick in the office of the latter yesterday afternoon, in which the present of Pittsburg was compared with the past and the future was discussed at length.

Fears Encroachment of Gary, Ind.

After the conference the following statement was made by one who was present:

"Mr. Frick warned Pittsburg as a city and its business men against the encroachment upon its heritage by the new steel city of Gary, Ind. He said that Pittsburg must fight for new business, and not only that, but must be continually on guard to hold what it has already gained. He cautioned against any picayune policy in improvement, and urged that Pittsburg rise to the occasion and achieve for the city a higher rank among the great cities of the country."

Sees Danger in Lake Ports.

While Mr. Frick's reference was in the main to Gary, it is understood that he discussed all lake ports which have of late shown a disposition to manufacture iron and steel, taking the ground that each new plant made at a lake side detracted so much from the wealth of Pittsburg. Mr. Frick will have another conference with the business men in a few days.

MAY RIDE TO PRISON IN AUTO.

James Bradley, Convicted Wife Murderer, Is Denied New Hearing.

Lebanon, Ind., June 4.—James Bradley, convicted wife murderer, may be taken to prison in an automobile. Prisoners generally do not enjoy the luxury of auto rides, but in this case Bradley has been very ill in jail, suffering from a nervous attack, and his condition is such that the time for his deportation is as yet indefinite. Sheriff Mangus thinks the auto ride will do Bradley good and that the trip to prison can be made as safely in this manner as any.

Motion to obtain a new trial for Bradley was overruled in the circuit court yesterday. The attorneys noted exceptions and contemplate taking an appeal to the appellate court.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR FOR IT.

One of these days you'll be trying to varnish something, or do a little painting, or tinkering about the Automobile, and when that time comes if you haven't been lucky enough to hear about "Whiz" ask your neighbor if he has a can of it. If not, send to the grocer.

It's the most wonderful preparation ever known for removing dirt, grease and grime quickly, and its use is a habit that grows on one.

FIGHT BOOSTERS SENTENCED.

Eight Club Members Convicted on Testimony of Policeman.

New York, June 4.—On the testimony of a policeman that, while in plain clothes, he was approached the night of April 20 by a stranger and offered a membership ticket to the Longacre Athletic club for 50 cents, eight men were convicted in the court of special sessions yesterday of running a prize fight in violation of the penal code. Two were fined $25 and six received suspended sentences. The contention of the prosecution was that the peddling of membership tickets on the street vitiated the immunity conferred by a club charter.

SALOON REFORM IS THE DESIRE OF BREWERS

Back Rooms and Gambling Annexes Cancers on the Business.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 4.—Claiming that the brewery and saloon business of the country is in danger of being "Oslerized" by prohibitionists who wish to put it out of its misery instead of curing the disease which has sapped the vitality of the traffic and brought it into disrepute, delegates at the final session of the American Brewers' association convention advocated the abolition of the saloon "back room" and other abuses carried on by the saloonkeepers as a real cure for the evil conditions.

Even the New Jersey law prohibiting the displaying of brewery signs over the saloon doors was lauded as a proper step for reform. Resolutions were adopted in executive session which called on brewers not to break "rules and regulations" of either brewers or officials outside of their own states, and these are believed to be aimed at the shipping of beer into prohibition territory.

The novel contention that the temperance folk seek to "Oslerize" the brewing business as having outlived its usefulness came from Percy Adams, of Ohio.

Says Brewers Can Help Industry.

"The industry is now in the same position as a sick man," he said. "One physician whom we can liken to the prohibition advocates claims that the disease is incurable and it would be merciful to kill us off at the polls. We alone can act as the physicians with the view that we must remove the cancerous growth that threatens our lives.

"This concerous growth is nothing more than the saloon dive and the saloon gambling annex. We must admit that corruption and vice in its worst forms exist in the saloon. No matter who is to blame, the blame is laid at our door, and we must act and operate to remove the poison that is tearing at our very vitals."

Separate Licenses Are Urged.

H. B. Scharrmann, of New York, who advocated the movement for separate licenses for fermented and distilled liquors, said:

"I advocate one license for a beer saloon, where nothing but fermented drinks can be sold, and another for the grogshop that sells distilled liquors. Allow no man to hold both licenses, and then let the public see whether whisky or beer is the agent of the devil."

The following officers were elected:

Carl J. Hoster, of Columbus, O., president.

Anton C. J. Hupfel, of New York, treasurer.

LISTLESS PLAY AND A WILD PITCH FATAL

McDermott Failed to Cover Third and Hammond Took a Heave.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 4.—Frank McDermott failed to cover third in the second inning of the third game with the Raiders and as a result Kehoe stole the bag and scored the only run of the engagement on a wild pitch by Hammond. Outside of this Fort Wayne played good ball, but could not hit Casey Hagerman when runs were in sight.

Hammond's wildness was in a measure responsible for the loss. He passed Kehoe and Clark allowed him to steal second. McDermott let him pilfer third and then Hammond finished up his wild work with a tall fling that went to the stands. He allowed but one hit during the game and it did not count in the running.

Hagerman pitched a grand game of ball and Blount and Channell were the only two of the visitors who were able to find him and neither of them did any particular harm. He was steady and passed only McDermott, who was one of the three Fort Wayne players that reached first in the game. Channell beat out an infield hit and Blount got a rap in the ninth and outside of that not one visiting player reached the first turn. The only error of the game was Dickey's failure to hold Lindsay's throw of Clark's grounder, but it had no effect on the final result. The score:

The Scores.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 4.—The Pirates defeated Boston by the score of 9 to 8, after having the score 8 to 1 against them. Both teams had bad innings and each had six runs scored against it in one inning. The day was dark and at times it was hard to see the ball. The locals used four pitchers and McCarthy was replaced in the fourth for Boston after he had forced in two runs on bases on balls. In this inning Wagner knocked a home run with the bases full. The score: R.H.E.

"Take it from me," says Pete Koester in a letter to Manager Mart Cleary, "that the Shamrocks will have to show the best they have to beat the Toledo Milos. Donivan or I will pitch, with a fast team back of us. We're coming to Fort Wayne Sunday to take the game."

Tieman plugs the hole on first base. He is a good head, and knows the game.

The Toledo Milos and the Fort Wayne Shamrocks will play at League park next Sunday. Koenig or Robbins will be on the mound for the home team.

Play will be called at 2:30 at League park next Sunday, half an hour earlier than usual.

Uncle Joe Cannon Puts up His Mitts to Philadelphia Jack O'Brien.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 4.—Resting after his bout with "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, Joseph G. Cannon, of Washington, D. C., and Danville, Ill., looks able to once more enter the ring. His draw at the King of Prussia Inn with Joseph P. Hagen, as O'Brien is in private life, greatly encourages the Washington fighter, now known in fistic circles as "Washington Joe" O'Cannon—by the same token that Hagen is O'Brien. His friends also insist he has a future.

O'Brien showed "Uncle Joe" the approved 1909 way of holding one's hands so as to not hit one's self in the eye, and the Danville whirlwind cut into the Philadelphia waltzer. Both mistreated the air shamefully with cruel smashes, while the friends of Representative Irving P. Wanger, who was entertaining Mr. Cannon, shouted, "Put him out, Joe."

"Be careful of me, Mr. O'Brien," said Mr. Cannon, wafting a few hot jabs across. The bell saved "P. Jack," and all retired into the King of Prussia's Inn, but not before the moving picture man got busy.

BILLY BELDEN BACK IN THE CENTRAL LEAGUE

Billy Belden, a member of Fort Wayne's two teams that won championships in the first years of the Central league, will be back in the organization if he succeeds in making good at Terre Haute where he will go from Omaha, of the Western league.

A few days ago announcement was made that Belden had been sold to Waterloo in the Central association, but President L. D. Smith of the Terre Haute club is out with the statement that he has secured Belden and will put him in the outfield. The Terre Haute outer works have been pretty well taken care of this season and there is some speculation as to just what is wanted with Belden.

He batted .275 in the Western league last season and is apparently going at good speed as his ability to beat out infield grounders is what keeps up his batting average.

Belden started his career in baseball here when Bade Myers picked him off the Cleveland lots and gave him a place in right field. He played good ball until the last season the club was here when he went too fast a pace for good ball playing and he finally was taken on by Jack Hendricks who was then manager of the Springfield ball team. From there he went to Omaha.

Belden was the boy that could climb the bank in right field for long hits and he had a habit of picking them off the fence that no player since his time has been able to cultivate. If he sticks with the Tots he will be seen here the latter part of July.

Watch Waynes When They Get an Infield That Can Hit.

Louis L. Arms, in Grand Rapids Press.

While Jack Hendricks' baseball warriors may not be the class of the Central league, still a rather cursory survey would call forth the expression that all things considered it would appear as though Jack had a pretty good baseball team and one which should win games.

There is one very obvious point of weakness and that is that his infield lacks hitters. As fielders they are commendable, and sporadically Guy Dickey goes on a hitting spree as does "Dummy" Fremer, but if Jack were to confide the weakness of his bunch doubtless it would be that his infielders are not hitters.

There is Red McDermott on third, a mere kid, who is as fast as lightning, but who cannot hit. Johnny Lindsay, who has been missed from the Central for a few seasons, is back in the parade again and apparently he is as swift as ever about the short field and that is saying something, for when Groeschow was at his best Lindsay was the shortstop in the league at whom the fans pointed their fingers and named even as good as the Adrian star.

Fremer on second will do in any position, making a first-class utility man. As soon as he is able, Frankie Donahue will get out on the keystone sack. If Dickey could only hit, his fielding would not allow him to stay in this league very long.

In the outfield Hendricks places his one best bet. Blount is exceptionally speedy, as is Channell. Elston has cultivated the habit of meeting the ball on the "pic" and is invaluable to Hendricks right now. In fact, it would not seem that any Central league club has anything on Hendricks in regard to pasture performers.

Coming to his pitchers, they look plenty strong enough. Hammond and Miller should win. Robertson used to twirl first-class ball and his record this season shows that he still knows how, while Charlie Alberts and Harry Corns are consistent performers. On the whole Hendricks has the best infield and the best squad of pitchers, perhaps, in the league, all points considered.

It is merely a case with the Waynes of being unable to strike a winning stride. Give them the confidence accruing from a couple of weeks of consistent winning and that Wayne squad is going to be a hard one to stop

Kroy is Shy Several of His Fingers.

Did any of you observant fans who watched the South Bend games here this season observe that Kroy, who played left field for the Bronchos, had only stubs to represent five fingers that were taken off in a box factory several years ago? Next time he comes count 'em. When the fingers were taken off he learned to throw left handed, and stayed with the game. And South Bend fans are glad he did. Kroy has but one finger on his right hand and four on his left. He still has his two thumbs. Kroy used to throw with his right hand, but when he lost all but one digit belonging to that mitt, he couldn't get the right grip on the ball any more. He determined to become a left-handed thrower, and after persistent practice succeeded.

The part of Kroy's glove that ought to be occupied by fingers, but is not, is stuffed with cotton and reinforced. The fly-chaser does not seem to have any trouble hanging onto a ball when he makes a catch.

It is hard to understand how Kroy, with only one finger on his right hand, is able to grab a bat but he does, and, judging from the way he clouts the ball, he grips it tightly. Kroy takes a long, hard swing. It would seem that the bat would fly out of his hands, but such is not the case.

Kroy has taken the place of Leon Foy, in the Bender outfield. Foy never hit very much, but he was a great little man to lead off a batting list, and he was a great run-getter. He used to get on the bases a lot, and when he did get on it did not take a dozen or so hits to work him around to the plate.

THE SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

NICKEL PLATE CHANGES DATE OF EXCURSION TO CLEVELAND

Will be on Saturday, June 12, Instead of Friday—Shop News.

Agent Frank P. Parnin, of the Nickel Plate, this morning received notice from the passenger headquarters at Cleveland that the date of the week-end excursions over the line to that city had been changed. To accommodate a large number of people who wished to attend a proposed reception in honor of Rt. Rev. Farrelly, who will be installed bishop of the diocese of Cleveland, next Friday evening, the Nickel Plate had arranged to run the excursion Friday morning. It has since been learned that Bishop Farrelly cannot be in that city on that evening, and the reception has been abandoned. Under these circumstances the Nickel Plate has considered it advisable to change the excursion date and the special train will leave this city Saturday morning, instead of Friday morning, as previously announced. Tickets will be good returning Monday and the excursionists will be accorded the privilege of attending the installation exercises Sunday, June 13.

PLAN TO HANDLE GOULD LINES.

Directors Offer Solution of the Problem.

The following circular to stockholders of the Missouri Pacific and subsidiary lines indicates that the proposition to bring them under one management is about to be consummated:

"The ownership of the more than 3,700 miles of railroad which constitute the Missouri Pacific system proper, is, as you doubtless know, now divided among a large number of separate corporations. The consolidation of the Missouri Pacific Railroad company and various subsidiary lines, as outlined in the accompanying notice of stockholders' meeting, is a step toward the unification of the system (excluding the Iron Mountain lines) in one common ownership, which the board of directors believes will bring about substantial economies in administration, secure greater efficiency in operation and make it possible more advantageously to finance the future requirements of the system."

The lines immediately affected by the consolidation plan are the Kansas and Colorado Pacific, the Central Branch, the Rooks County railroad, the Nevada and Minden, the Kansas City and Southwestern, the Fort Scott Central, the Kanapolis and Kansas Central, the Kansas Southwestern and the Leroy and Caney Valley Air Line.

HAWLEY BUYS STOCK.

C. & O. Man Takes Over Big Block of C., C. & L. Stock.

When Edwin Hawley and his associates in the syndicate in control of the Chesapeake and Ohio, returned from their tour of inspection a few weeks ago it was announced that the road would be made a trunk line. The principal western terminus of the road now is Cincinnati, and among the guesses as to the manner of connecting Cincinnati the favorite was by acquisition of the Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville.

Today it was said in very well-informed quarters that the Hawley party had bought at private sale large blocks of Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville bonds and other securities of the company. The design of the purchase, it was said, was to enable the Hawley party to occupy a superior position in the arrangements for reorganization of the road, which has been in the hands of a receiver since the early part of last year.

GOING TO ATLANTIC CITY.

So far the Pennsylvania local ticket office has been called upon to reserve Pullman sleeper space for twelve physicians who will attend the American Medical associations' convention at Atlantic City next week, included being three Fort Wayne physicians. They will leave Sunday morning. The Pennsylvania company will have a special train for the accommodation of the western delegates through this city Sunday, but it is understood that no berths on this train can be secured by parties east of Chicago, as all have been engaged at Chicago.

LAD NEARLY DROWNED.

According to Allen M. Mullen and John O'Donnell, the twenty-year-old boys taken by the Pennsylvania patrolmen from "blind baggage" on Pennsylvania Special No. 28, when it pulled into Fort Wayne last night, they came near being swept from their perilous position by a "cloud burst" in the vicinity of Davis, Ind. The engine takes water there while running a mile a minute and the overflow went on the boys, making them think they had been deluged by a cloud burst. They were glad to get off the train, even if it did mean a night in jail. Mullen says his parents reside in Baltimere and O'Donnell says his home is in Wilkesbarre, Pa., and the father of each has been notified by telegraph by Captain Stoll of their whereabouts and the predicament the young fellows are in. They are being held until tomorrow.

SYRIAN WEDDING TOMORROW.

George Ember, a Syrian, employed at the Pennsylvania freight house, will be married at the Cathedral tomorrow to a young lady just from Syria, who made the long journey for that purpose. Sunday a reception will be given at the corner of Holman and Lafayette streets to the bride and groom, and this promises to be one of the most important social events in Syrian circles witnessed in Fort Wayne. Mr. Ember was one of the men who came near losing his life by bromine gas several weeks ago. He has fully recovered, however.

TO PREPARE FOR PICNIC.

Tomorrow some of the members of the grounds committee of the Pennsylvania Company Excursion association will go to Rome City to make arrangements for the entertainment while at the resort of the employes and the members of their families on the occasion of the annual excursion, on Monday, June 14. The personnel of the committee is as follows: C. P. Cherry, J. A. Graham, J. H. Hobrock, H. T. Hogan, B. F. Sarver and E. E. Dildine. It is not likely, however, that all can get away from business tomorrow to make the trip.

OUT OF THE HOSPITAL.

Clarence E. Lane, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at St. Joseph's hospital two or three weeks ago, is making rapid strides towards recovery and will soon be on duty again. He left the hospital for his home yesterday. The young man is the traveling fireman on the G. R. & I. road.

MACHINIST INJURED.

William Lapp, of 1326 Union street, employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works and a member of the volunteer fire department at the works, is suffering as a result of slipping while assisting in pulling one of the hose carts during a surprise call for a drill a week ago. The injury was not perceptable at first and when it began to develop it was believed to be rheumatism. Mr. Lapp has commenced to improve, however, and will soon be able to resume his duties.

Has Your Daughter Been Finished Yet?

Maybe—maybe not. Just depends on her—and on what "candle power" you want her to have.

If she's to shine in society she may need polishing up a bit.

Does she know how to walk into a room impressively—how to talk without giving herself away—how to dress for various functions—how to "act" on all occasions? Oh, it's great business, this finishing school industry, which makes a Geraldine of your Jenny and a Mabelle of plain Mabel.

There are all kinds of "finishes" to the finishing school product—and they are all discussed breezily, fairly and fully by Reginald Wright Kauffman in an article all the girls and boys and fathers and mothers will enjoy.

NEW TRAIN TONIGHT.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana company inaugurated a special semi-weekly summer resort train service today. The schedule for June has been issued and it shows that the northbound trains will leave Richmond on the 4, 8, 11, 15, 18, 22 and 25 and the southbound trains will leave Grand Rapids on the 6, 10, 13, 17, 20 and 24 and pass through this city the following morning, the northbound train at 12:30 o'clock and the southbound train at 1:15 o'clock. Should the necessity arise, these trains will become a daily affair.

G. R. & I. GETS ANOTHER ENGINE

Engine No. 5, the last on an order for four new locomotives placed with the American Locomotive works at Pittsburg by the Grand Rapids and Indiana company, arrived here last night and was immediately sent to Grand Rapids with a freight train. Two of the new engines, Nos. 1 and 2, have been assigned to this division of the system and two, Nos. 4 and 5, have been assigned to the Northern division.

THREE MINOR ACCIDENTS.

There were three accidents in the Pennsylvania shops yesterday and today, none being serious, however. E. W. Zimmerman, a machinist in the erecting shop, had the fourth finger of his left hand crushed; A. P. Gruber, of the machine shop, had a foot bruised by a lathe "dog" dropping upon it, and A. W. Arter, of the same shop, had his right thumb slit open. The latter accident happened this morning. Arter is an apprentice.

WILL VISIT OLD HOME.

June 16, Henry Grothaus will sail for Germany to spend several months with relatives and the friends of his boyhood days. Mr. Grothaus is employed in the store department of the Pennsylvania shops and he has obtained a three months' leave of absence to make the visit.

HAD FIFTY GUESTS.

The Ladies' society of the B. L. F. & E., who gave a dinner between 6 and 8 o'clock last evening to the brotherhood men, had fifty guests and the affair proved most enjoyable and was certainly appreciated by them. After the feast the brotherhood held a business meeting.

STUDENTS AT ROME CITY.

GONE TO WABASH.

Dennis Hayes, yardmaster of the Wabash, was called to Wabash this morning to look after some business matters. George W. Thiebolt, the yard conductor, is acting yardmaster during Mr. Hayes' absence.

After a week's visit with relatives and friends at Delphos, Ohio, Machinist Pat Reardon resumed his duties at the Pennsylvania round house this morning.

Contractor William Eickoff has commenced the erection of a dwelling house on Woodland avenue for Mr. McLeod, who will occupy it with his family when completed.

H. C. Kramer, a clerk in the Pennsylvania main shop office, goes to Chicago tomorrow to spend a few days with his relatives. He will be accompanied by his wife.

William H. Smith, a C., H. & D. yard foreman at Hamilton, was crushed to death between cars while making a coupling Wednesday night. He was married and had several small children.

Pay day at the Electric works is a day ahead of time this week on account of the fifth coming on Saturday. The men received their earnings this afternoon. Rhinesmith & Simonson will pay their employes tomorrow.

Ed Kelley resigned a position at the Wabash machine shop this morning for the purpose of engaging in business for himself. Harry Grage, a machinists' helper, also quit his job at the Wabash shops this morning. He will leave the city.

Al Ringle, who accompanied his mother as far as Chicago on her way to Colorado early in the week, has returned and resumed his duties in the Pennsylvania machine shop. Mrs. Ringle is going to Denver to spend several months.

Cyrus Wellington, who was for twelve years chief counsel of the Great Northern and later chief private counsel to James J. Hill, died yesterday at Balsam Lake, Wis., of locomotor ataxia. Mr. Wellington retired eight years ago. He was 66 years old.

Otto Reese, night money clerk at the Pennsylvania depot for the Adams Express company, was operated upon for repture at St. Joseph hospital Wednesday and is getting along nicely. He will soon be able to resume work.

James Laughlin, Nickel Plate crossing watchman, has not yet located the bunch of rhubarb and some straps that were taken from the shanty at Harrison street. The straps belonged to a friend and unless recovered will have to be replaced by others at a cost of a dollar or two.

George Selekos, a Wabash section man, is in a hospital at Lafayette suffering from wounds received when he fell off a hand car and the vehicle passed over him. He is injured internally. Selekos' hand slipped off the handle of the car while he was assisting in running it.

Charles Bromelmeier came home from Claypool yesterday with twelve bass whose aggregate weight was eighteen pounds. The fish were uniform in size and made a pretty appearance when laid out for inspection. This is one of the best catches of the season. Mr. Bromelmeier is a Nickel Plate engineer and he has resumed his duties on the road.

The Fats vs. the Leans on the roundhouse diamond tomorrow afternoon will be one of the base ball attractions of the day. The teams are composed of the Pennsylvania erecting shop employes and this will be their second game this season.

While about to get aboard a C., H. & D. train at Dayton to go to New York to meet his sweetheart, who is coming from Baden to marry him, Louis Shultz, a molder, slipped and one of his feet was crushed beneath the moving car wheels. The wedding will now take place in the hospital ward at Dayton as soon as Miss Annie Shultz, the bride-to-be, arrives here. Shultz has been in America only long enough to earn money sufficient to equip a house for himself and bride and can scarcely speak English. His case has attracted considerable attention from his countrymen, who promise to see that the wedding takes place at the appointed time.

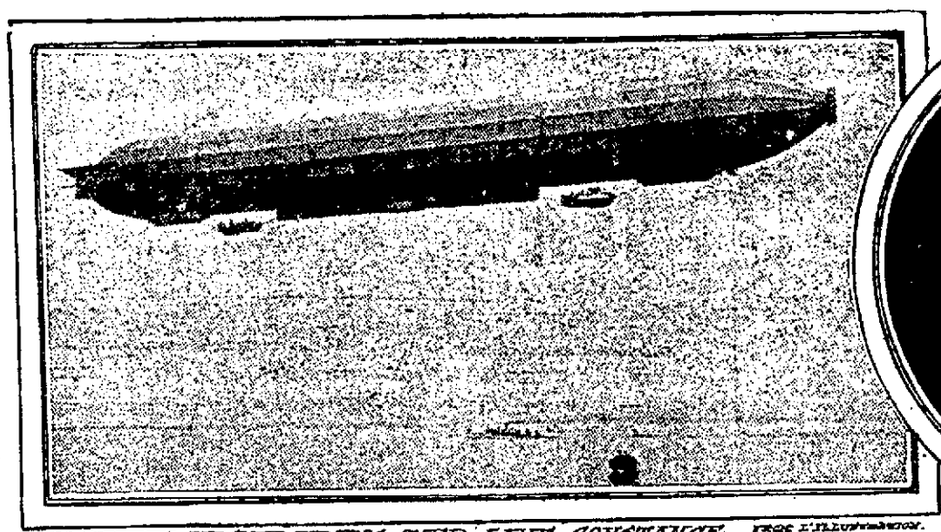
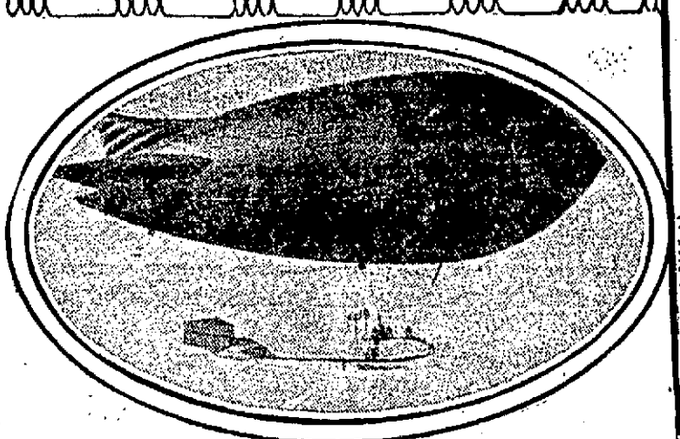
Count Zeppelin Shows He Could Cross From Germany to England in Airship If He Chose



ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP FLYING OVER LAKE CONSTANCE.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR AND COUNT ZEPPELIN.



THE "BRITISH ARMY AIRSHIP" "FLYING FISH."

MAP SHOWING ZEPPELIN'S RECORD FLIGHT AND DISTANCE FROM GERMANY TO LONDON.

Count Zeppelin's achievement, taken ether with what he is planning for near future, raises afresh the ques- of what part the airship will play the next war, and particularly in possibility of war between Eng- d and Germany.

This possibility has recently been cussed with something more than idle speculation, and the aerial fleet of Germany and what it might do in a night raid over England have been one of the interesting points in all these discussions. In England it is not a momentary scare, but a deep seated conviction on the part of government leaders and serious men that the future security of the empire may depend upon preparation to cope with the aerial forces that in the near future may aid in overpowering invasion. This feeling has recently found common public expression, and in London the press and the government heads have discussed the matter with an earnestness that has attracted much outside attention.

Early last April a meeting was called at the mansion house for the purpose of obtaining the views of England's most prominent citizens as to what course should be taken in the building of an aerial military fleet able to cope with like fleets in Germany and France. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Aerial league of the British empire and was attended by many of the most distinguished men in England.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

S. S. S. heals Sores and Ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes ht down into the blood and removes the cause, and the place is bound heal because the impurities and morbid matters which have been the ans of keeping the ulcer open are no longer absorbed from the blood. ternal applications of salves, lotions, plasters, etc., can never produce a re because they do not reach the source of the trouble. At best they n only allay pain or reduce inflammation; such treatment is working on mptoms and not reaching the cause. Every nutritive corpuscle in the od is weakened or infected, they cannot nourish the fibrous tissue around e place, but instead they constantly discharge into the flesh around the re a quantity of impure, germ-laden matter which gradually eats into the rrounding healthy tissue and causes the ulcer to enlarge. Since impure od is responsible for Sores and Ulcers, a medicine that can purify the od is the only hope of a cure. S. S. S. has long been recognized as the eatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove ery impurity from the blood. While curing the sore or ulcer S. S. Saturday Night Talks

By REV. F. E. DAVISON, Rutland, Vt.

"An Untamable Organ"—International Bible Lesson for June 6, 1909—(James 3: 1-12).

The heathen philosopher Xanthus, about to entertain friends, ordered his servant Aesop to provide the best things the market could supply. Tongues only were provided and these were served up with different sauces, course after course was supplied, each consisting of tongue. "Did I not order you," said Xanthus, in a violent passion, "to buy the best victuals the market afforded?" "Yes, and have I not obeyed your orders?" said Aesop. "Is there anything better than tongue? Is not the tongue the bond of civil society, the organ of truth and reason, and the instrument of our praise and adoration of the gods?" And the philosopher was convinced and silent. But the next day Xanthus ordered his servant to go to the market and buy the worst things he could find. Aesop went, and again when the covers were lifted, behold there was nothing but tongue,—tongue boiled, tongue baked, tongue stewed, tongue stuffed, tongue sliced, tongue minced, tongue. "What! tongue again?" exclaimed Xanthus. "Most certainly," rejoined Aesop; "the tongue most surely is the worst thing in the world. It is the instrument of all strife and contention, the inventory of lawsuits, and the source of division and wars; it is the organ of error, of lies, calumny and blasphemies."

The witty servant was only putting into practical form the statement of the Apostle James, "The tongue of man no one can subdue—it is a turbulent evil, full of death-dealing poison; with it we praise God, even the Father, and with it we curse men made in the image of God: from the same mouth come forth a eulogy and a curse."

Universal Disease.

There was a disease prevalent in the church in the days of James and it is epidemic in our own times. It is an internal disease and the symptoms are discovered by an eruption which appears upon the tongue. If you would diagnose the state of a person's heart, like a skillful physician, the quickest, surest way to get at it is to imitate the doctor and say, "Let me see your tongue." The hand, the eye, the foot, the ear are important members of the human body, but they do not show the mental, moral, spiritual, as well as physical condition of the individual so perfectly as the tongue. The ancient Greeks used the same word for speech and thought, and the modern German was as wise as he was witty when he said, "I will believe that any animal thinks when he tells me so."

Words Are Indices.

That is to say, the words of a man are the indices of his character. They are the stream that advertises the nature of the spring; out of the same fountain does not flow sweet water and bitter. Of course, it is possible to control the speech so as to hide the real disposition in the heart, and by constant watchfulness to deceive the closest observer as to one's true quality, until a certain purpose has been accomplished, but that sort of scheme cannot be carried out through a whole life time, sooner or later the restrained and curbed horse will run away; in some unguarded moment the real self will be revealed. "By thy words thou shalt be justified and by thy words thou shalt be condemned." That is to say, it is not so much what a man says, as it is that his language is the expression of what he is. That will be the criterion by which he will be estimated by God and man. As Will Carleton puts it:

"Boys flying kites haul in their white winged birds
You can't do that way when you're flying words,
Thoughts unexpressed, may sometimes fall back dead,
But God Himself can't kill them when they're said."

The Tongue a Fire.

To illustrate that idea James points to a prairie fire which an Indian can kindle with a revolving stick and which sweeps through the dry grass so fiercely and rapidly that men and animals are compelled to flee for their lives or fall and perish in the flames. Millions of property have been swept away because somebody was careless with a match; and hearts have been broken, homes destroyed, bosom friends separated, churches disrupted, neighborhoods scandalized, cities earthquake shaken, nations split asunder, life-long animosities kindled, because some one has thrown the bomb of a malicious word into society. If every slanderer, liar, backbiter, blasphemer, filthy talker were punished by losing the organ of speech, what a mighty host of dumb people there would be in this world. The silence would be wide-spread and remarkable.

CHINA SUPPLIES HEAD HAIR.

Suspicion Awakened That Most of It Goes Into Women's Fluffy Puffers.

Nearly a quarter of a million pounds of human hair were imported into this country from China alone last year, according to a consular report from Consul Stuart J. Fuller, of Hongkong. In 1907 the hair exported to the United States through Hongkong amounted to but 56,133 pounds, but last year the amount jumped up to 207,414 pounds. Will somebody arise to explain the cause of the increased demand? Is it that the women are using "rats" more generally, or that they are of larger size?

The consul goes on to give some rather disagreeable details concerning the requirements that the hair must be disinfected by the marine hospital surgeon stationed at Hongkong. It seems that the women of this country not only wanted hair in increased quantities last year, but were in a big hurry about it. The report says that while in 1907 three-fourths of the total quantity were brought into this country by way of Suez, while last year considerably more than half was brought in by way of San Francisco and the Puget Sound ports.

The hair is brought to Hongkong from the interior of China, and there cleaned and assorted to length and quality. It is then packed and either stored or fumigated in accordance with quarantine regulations and then shipped to New York.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

IF YOU ARE WORTH $50,000 DON'T READ THIS.

This will not interest you if you are worth fifty thousand dollars, but if you are a man of moderate means and cannot afford to employ a physician when you have an attack of diarrhoea, you will be pleased to know that one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will cure it. This remedy has been in use for many years and is thoroughly reliable. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Referring to the deposed sultan, the Hebrew Standard calls Abdul Hamid "one of the most clever and diplomatic of the crowned heads of Europe. Such a man as the ex-sultan has shown himself to be in the last situation must command our unbounded admiration, and we can never forget that when Christian rulers ruthlessly banished their Jewish citizens from the land of their birth the Ottoman government gave them shelter and protection." Commenting on this article, a correspondent says: "And now, in his day of sorrow, when there are none to do him homage, the monarch that was is sheltered at Salonica in a house owned by a Jew."

SORE NIPPLES.

Any mother who has had experience with this distressing ailment will be pleased to know that a cure may be effected by applying Chamberlain's Salve as soon as the child is done nursing. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the babe to nurse. Many trained nurses use this salve with best results. For sale by all druggists.

"ALCO SYSTEM"

Clothes are planned by draughtsmen who confine their efforts to designing drapery for the human figure and whose eyes are trained to watch and catch "effects."

That's why "Alco" Clothes always lend individuality to the wearer, then again they are sewed and shaped into form by expert tailors whose hand work gives strength and longer wear to every garment.

MIDDLE AGED MAN CALLER.

Dropped In on the Major by Accident. How the King of Fakers Relieved Sufferer of Some Small Change and Then Disappeared.

[Copyright, 1909, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

IT was 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and the grand promoter sat in his office wondering if there would be any 12 o'clock lunch for him. The state of his finances had just satisfied him that there wouldn't be when there came a knock on the door. Without hesitation he bade the knocker to enter. An experience of ten long years had taught him the difference between the knock of a creditor and that of a person who merely wished to make an inquiry. This knock belonged to the latter class, and no peril surrounded it. A middle aged man, with his jaw tied up, entered and said:

"I WANT TO ASK WHERE IN THUNDER THE DENTIST IS!"

"I want to ask where in thunder the dentist is! He has a sign at the foot of the stairs, but I've been up and down and can't find him."

"Something in your appearance leads me to believe that you are suffering from toothache," suavely replied Major Crofoot as he arose and placed a chair for the other and wondered if Providence had brought him a sucker.

"Of course I'm suffering with toothache. Would I have a rag around my jaw if I wasn't? Would I be hunting a butcher of a dentist if I wasn't? Would I have walked the floor and cussed all night if I wasn't?"

"Then I will take it for granted that you are suffering, but at the same time I wish to compliment you on your stability of character. You, sir, are a man who knows exactly what ails him. You don't mistake toothache for tuberculosis. I am glad to meet you, sir; very glad."

"But I'm looking for a dentist," protested the caller.

"Certainly, but I shouldn't be in any hurry. He is two floors up, and he'll grin with delight at the idea of pulling a tooth. You are a strong minded man. I think you can throw the ache off if you try to. Yes, I see strength of character in every line of your face."

"But I'm only a longshoreman."

"That may be your occupation, but if you had had the opportunity you would have been one of the great financiers of the country and had millions behind you. Don't dispute me, my friend. It is my business to judge character. What a leader you would have made in Wall street—what a leader!"

"But I'm not educated."

"No? That is unfortunate. For that reason you may never become a Napoleon of finance, but there may yet be something in the future for you. Strength of character and the right man behind you will do wonders. Is your aching tooth better?"

"I think it is a little better," was the reply as the rag was slipped off the jaw.

"Just as I told you. It's your strength of character coming to the rescue. I knew I could not be deceived in you. I also see that you are an astute man—very astute. I don't know when I've met an astuter."

"What—what does that mean?"

"Sharp, cute, cunning, farseeing. I don't believe anybody ever played a gum game on you."

"No, you bet they didn't!" heartily replied the man as he doubled up his fists.

"And those Wall street fellows never got you in for a lamb?"

"Not by a durned sight! I never had any money to speculate on, but I know them for a lot of skins. Say, this tooth don't hardly ache at all now."

Strength of Character.

"It's your strength of character you are bringing to bear. I don't think the dentist will get any chance at you. Look here, my friend, I have been studying you, and I believe you are the man I want. It never takes me over ten minutes to size a man up. Yes, you are the man."

"Do you want a boss stevedore?"

"I want you, but not for that purpose. You know all about hydraulics, power and pressure, I take it?"

"Yes."

"I was sure you did. My business is promoting, organizing and making at least 50 per cent profit for all investors. I have promoted twenty-three enterprises and have now got the twenty-fourth in hand. This is to be the greatest thing of all. It's my own invention from top to bottom, and you must remember that I have connection with Wall street."

"But I have no money," protested the caller.

"You must have $5—three—two—one?"

"I have just got 50 cents. I thought the dentist would yank out the old tooth for that."

"Um—um, I see! Great strength of character and plenty of astuteness, but only 50 cents, just enough to buy the stamp for the articles of incorporation. Well, I must have you with me. The lack of capital must be offset with character and astuteness. Now, then, for the invention. You know what dried apples are, of course?"

"Yes, sir."

"If you take a pound of dried apples and pour water over 'em what happens?"

"They swell."

"Ha, an answer right off the reel! Yes; they swell at least 50 per cent. In swelling they must give out power. What becomes of the power?"

"It's wasted, sir."

"Just as I expected you to answer. Yes; it's wasted. Every day in the year sufficient dried apple power is wasted to run every steamship and factory in the world. Why not save instead of waste it? Why not harness it up and make use of it? Do you see the point?"

"By thunder!" exclaimed the man as he saw it.

"Ah, ha, you do see it! Well, I saw it long ago and hence the new corporation entitled the Great American Dried Apple Power company. It's bound to be a world beater, and such men as you are going to help me to make it so; capital, $10,000,000. Stock sells above par at once. Dividends anywhere from 50 cents to a dollar per annum. We own our orchards; we dry our own apples; we pour on water from our own wells. One thousand pounds of swelling dried apples runs the biggest steamer across the Atlantic. One hundred pounds per day runs a cotton mill. A mere five pounds per day runs a street car. And, sir, when the apples have swelled until they can swell no more we sell them at half cost to hotels, restaurants and pie bakers. It's going to work a complete revolution in power throughout the world. Nothing like it since the time of Adam. The government alone will pay us $10,000,000 a year. Coal has got to come down to $2 a ton. That's the scheme, and what do you, with your astuteness and strength of character, think of it?"

"It's g-great," replied the man as he got up to walk around.

Salary of $10,000.

"Then leave your 50 cents on the desk to buy a state stamp with, and come in on Monday next to take your place in the new corporation as manager. I want you to look out for the orchards and the apples. Your salary will be $10,000 a year to start on."

"N-o-o-o; you can't mean it!"

"And gradually raised until you are working for $50,000 a year. The 50 cents, please. Thanks. I shall look for you Monday. And now, as you know, I'm a very busy man, and Monday—Monday, sure. Good day."

And the man found himself out in the hall and going downstairs before he realized that the conversation was finished. He had gone half a block when he suddenly clapped his hand to his jaw and uttered a groan. Then he retraced his steps and ran upstairs and was pounding vigorously on the major's door when the janitor of the building came along and said:

"So that old guy has done you up, has he?"

"Say, he's even got the rag off my jaw!" was the reply.

"Well, don't raise a fuss about it. He went out the back way, and you may never see him again. Just charge it up to experience. Oh, he's a dandy, the major is!" M. QUAD.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., June 4.—The situation in the wheat market today was similar to that of the previous session, the July delivery being subjected again to heavy selling pressure by leading commission houses, while the more deferred futures were in moderate demand. As a result of the continued profit taking in the July option its price broke nearly 1c early in the day. Other deliveries, however, remained comparatively steady at slight gains over the previous close. Some reports were received, telling of rust in the fields of southern Illinois and these advices had a slightly bullish effect. The opening on July was ½c to ¼@⅝c higher at $1.19to $1.19¼, but later the price dropped to $1.18⅜.

For July wheat the low point of the day was reached at $1.17⅞. Sentiment was rather bearish the greater part of the session and the market closed easy with July off ½@⅝c at $1.18¼.

Corn advanced to new high record marks on renewed buying by shorts brought out by the bullish situation in the cash grain. The new high point for July was 73½c and for September 69¾c, gains of ½c and ¼c respectively, compared with the previous best mark established yesterday. There was realizing on the bulge and prices eased off a trifle. July opened ½c to ½c higher at 73⅛c to 73½c and sold off to 72⅞c.

The corn market rallied again later in the day. July advanced to 73⅝ and September to 70. c. The close was firm, with July a shade higher at 70⅝c. September also was a shade higher at 69½@69⅝c.

Oats were firm, because of buying by a leading cash interest. The strength of corn was a bullish influence. July opened ⅛c to ⅛@¼c higher at 53⅞c to 54c, and sold off to 53⅝c.

Further advances were made in provisions, owing to general demand based on continued light receipts of live hogs throughout the west. September pork early in the day touched $20.05 per bbl. Prices at the start were 2½c to 12½c higher.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, June 4.—The stock market opened with eager speculation centering in the transcontinental railroad stocks in all of which there were heavy initial blocks transferred with a spread in the quotations. Union Pacific sold ex-dividend of 2½ per cent, 10,000 shares being transferred at 191¾ and 192¼, compared with 191⅝, equivalent to an extreme advance of 1⅛. A 6,000 share block of Atchison sold at 112 and 113 compared with 110⅝ yesterday. In Southern Pacific there were 6,000 shares sold at 131¾ and 131¼, compared with 130¼ yesterday. Northern Pacific was up 1¼ and St. Paul, American Smelting, United States Rubber, American Cotton Oil and American Can preferred a point. United States Rubber first preferred jumped 2⅝. United States Steel was under pressure of realizin sales, the first 3,000 shares selling at 69 and 68⅞, compared with 69⅛ last night. The price afterwards yielded an additional fraction.

Heavy selling of the United States Steel stocks kept the market in check for a while and caused some extensive realizing. Later on a buoyant upshoot to the Harriman stocks started the list upward again, but the United States Steel stocks failed to rally, the common ruling 1⅛ and the preferred 1¼ below yesterday's closing. There were a number of sensational advances in the preferred stocks of industrial corporations. Republic Steel preferred and United States Rubber second preferred gained five points, Southern Pacific, the preferred and American Can preferred 2¼, United States Rubber and Consolidated Gas 2, Northern Pacific 1⅝, Union Pacific 1⅜, New York Central 1⅜ and Baltimore & Ohio, Reading and Great Northern preferred 1.

A sharp reaction in the Harrimans of 1⅛ to 1½ unsettled the market. Atchison then forged up 4¼ and some other new points of strength developed. Illinois Central rose 1⅜, Reading 1½ and Erie 1. Rutland preferred sold at an advance of 3¼ and St. Paul preferred 3. United States Steel was steadily supplied around 68 and yielded to 67⅝. The preferred stock sold at 126. Colorado & Southern, Bethlehem Steel and United States Realty fell a point. The bond market was active and strong.

Prices broke up with some violence until they were arrested by the vigorous bidding up of New York Central. Bull operations then began an onslaught. The fall of Union Pacific below yesterday's closing wiped out all but a fraction of Southern Pacific's rise. Other notably weak features were United States Steel preferred, which sold 2⅛ below last night, the common 1¾, Metropolitan Street Railway 2 and Toledo, St. Louis & Western, Amalgamated Copper, National Lead and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 1. The rally resulted in a rise of 3 points in St. Paul, 2¾ in New York Central, 1⅛ in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis and 1 in Canadian Pacific and Brooklyn Transit.

There was another shifting of operations by the bulls, this time into the Southern Trunk line stocks. The rest of the list moved feverishly and irregularly while this movement was under way. Reading rose 2½, Baltimore & Ohio 2, Norfolk & Western 1⅜, and Pennsylvania, Ontario & Western and Texas & Pacific 1, Corn Products preferred yielded 1 point.

The market closed irregular and very active. Prices fell back again with Chicago & Alton and International Paper a point below last night. Baltimore & Ohio became a feature with a rise of 3⅝. Texas & Pacific gained 2⅜ and Brooklyn Transit 3. Atchison crossed 115. Realizing sales persisted also, keeping the tone irregular.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, June 4.—Money on call, easy, at 1½@2%; ruling rate, 2%; closing bid, 1½%; offered at 1⅝%. Time loans, firmer and fairly active; sixty day loans, 2@2½%; ninety days, 2¼@2½&; six months, 3¼%. Prime mercantile paper, 3½@4%. Sterling exchange, steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 486.15@486.20 for sixty day bills, and at 487.90 for demand. Commercial bills, 485¾@486. Bar silver, 53c; Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, strong.

LOCAL MARKET EPITOME.

But very few produce receipts were on hand this morning, despite the fair demands. Chickens, however, have dropped to an 11c and 12c mark, owing to the outlook for increased receipts. Butter and eggs are steady, the former at 18c per pound, and the latter at 20c. There are no potatoes coming, with the market easy.

Said G. H. Crouse, of the commission house of G. H. Crouse & Co., this morning: "While the wholesale market of tomorrow will probably be larger than at any time this week, the retail receipts will be the real feature of the day. These will undoubtedly be heavy and the farmers will be able to get good prices for their stuffs."

Other lines remained the same today.

FOR WEAK NERVES

A PRODUCT OF THE ORIENT.

Lots of men fail in business because of lack of confidence. This vital failing is due nine times out of ten to physical conditions.

The causes usually are not far to seek. At just a little touch of brain fag, insomnia and increased irritability, then the nerves become unstrung and finally there is a complete physical break-down. To such a one there is no joy in living. The cure remedy is Persian Nerve Essence sold by all leading druggists, $1.00 per box, or six boxes for $5.00, or sent direct by mail on receipt of the price. We guarantee the six boxes to cure or refund money. Sold by Meyer Brothers Co., Three Drug Stores.

NYAL'S CORN REMOVER

If you're tired of messing and mussing with corn salves, awkward and cumbersome bandages for a place where no bandage can be comfortably applied, try Nyal's corn remover. Then you won't have to wrap up the toe, for this remedy itself forms a coating over the corn while it is being removed.

To Eas'em

The other day a traveling salesman noticed Eas'em on our show case and said, "For goodness sake, why don't you advertise that. I have been looking all over this town for Eas'em and couldn't find it. It's the best thing on earth for a man who is on his feet all day." Eas'em is antiseptic and deodorant. It relieves tired, sweaty feet and helps to prevent corns.

Korn Stix

Nyal's Korn Stix will also relieve you. It's the handiest little preparation ever made and easily carried in the pocket. It is an effective application for bunions, warts, etc.

WILL PASS CATHOLIC CEMETERY

Many Catholics Are Giving Financial Support to New Interurban.

The present plans of the promoters of the Bryan-Fort Wayne interurban line in regard to the location of the line will bring it past the Catholic cemetery on the Maysville road, and owing to this the project is receiving financial support from many of the Catholic faith in this city. Bishop Alerding has subscribed for $1,000 in stock and a number of other church officials will probably do so. The road will have a funeral car which may be used at any time in the year.

THAW WILL FILE PETITION.

Wishes to Be Discharged From Bankruptcy Without Examination.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 4.—Upon a petition of Harry K. Thaw, filed in the United States district court before Judge Young yesterday, Thaw was granted leave to file a petition for discharge from bankruptcy without being present for examination before the referee. Thaw filed the bankruptcy petition in August, 1908, and an attempt was made to bring him here for the purpose of appearing before his creditors. It was alleged, however, that the proceedings was an effort to get Thaw out of the jurisdiction of the New York authorities. Judge Young refused to grant an order bringing Thaw here. The court will set a day to hear objections later.
